Civil Rights Office To Eye WT Women Discrimination

Dr. Waldo Wedel, chief archeologist for the Smithsonian Institution, talks about the Indians who may have roamed the Plains 10,000 years ago. Wedel is spending the summer in Canyon to study his theory.

Alleged discrimination by West Texas State University against women will be investigated beginning Monday by a three-member team from the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas.

Miles Schulze, chief of the Contract Compliance Division of the office, said Tuesday the team will spend a week on the WTSU campus.

Investigation of the alleged discrimination was spurred when, last January, the Women's Equity Action League (WEAL) filed a complaint with the Office of Civil Rights concerning job discrimination against women at WTSU.

"That (alleged discrimination against women) is the reason they're coming," Schulze said.

In conjunction with the investigation, the team will also examine the university's academic and non-academic staff to ensure compliance with civil rights laws which say WTSU cannot discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, national origin or sex.

"It was about time for an annual review, anyway," Schulze said.

Team members visiting WTSU will be Richard Kurtz, Mary Arkadie and Gloria Lynch.

The women's discrimination controversy arose at WTSU last winter after The Canyon News printed a story concerning the numbers of men and women employed at WTSU and salaries paid members of each sex.

Paula Latimer, secretary of the Texas Division of WEAL, later wrote The Canyon News notifying the paper that a complaint had been filed with the civil rights office.

"The evidence of discrimination against women on the WT campus is so strong that the Women's Equity Action League is filing a complaint," she told the News.

Mrs. Latimer also told the News at that time that the cost for non-compliance with federal discrimination guidelines would be a loss of government contracts.

The original News story, which ran on Jan. 23, indicated that men overwhelmingly outnumber women in numbers, pay and education at WTSU. Figures cited were provided by the school's administration.

The figures showed that 100 per cent of the general officers of administration and the academic deans at WTSU are men and 84.3 per cent of the officers of instruction are men.

The story said 46 per cent of the men on the university teaching staff have doctorate degrees and 16 per cent of the women have doctorates.

One woman, said the article, has a title of full professor and 44 men have that title. There are also 30 men who are full professors who make a salary higher than the one woman full professor.

of people who enjoyed barbecue and the thrill of skydivers.

Aid Pledged to Towns

Congressman Bob Price said Saturday he has introduced two bills in the House which he thinks will help abate the migration from smaller towns in the nation to large cities.

Price, who was in Canyon for the Canyon Days celebration, told The Canyon News vast numbers of young people are moving from their small home towns to find employment in cities like Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Kansas City.

"How can we solve this," he asked rhetorically, "and answered his question: 'Through the profit motive.'"

One bill Price has promoted would provide a tax incentive for small businessmen to establish businesses in small towns.

"This would give him a tax write-off for locating in a small town, for equipment and for constructing a building," Price said.

A second bill would give the small businessman a tax break if he hired young and inexperienced local people.

"This couldn't help but keep the kids here," he said. "They're going to get married, build a house, buy groceries and so on. They're going to need all the services of the town, and everyone in the city benefits."

Price took a swipe at his Democratic opponent in next fall's congressional election, Graham Purcell, accusing him of using a House committee for political purposes.

"He called a hearing of the agricultural subcommittee about beef to use as a springboard for his election," Price charged. "The report that the committee adopted and reported to the House was so stupid that if I threw it down in front of a cattleman he'd laugh at me."

Price said there were numerous inaccuracies and discrepancies in the report.

"For one thing, they didn't even look at the import situation," Price said. "For another, everybody they called before the committee was a producer-and the committee hearing was called for the consumer to come and give his complaints. There was only one consumer that was called."

Price said he spent three days going over the final committee report and writing an addi-

Early Indian Presence Sought by Smithsonian

By BEN KECK

In the upper reaches of the Palo Duro Canyon, Dr. Waldo Wedel, chief archeologist for the Smithsonian Institution, digs through dirt and rock in search of a trash dump that will hopefully reveal the lifestyle of Indians roaming the Panhandle 10,000 years ago.

Later, in a rented house in Canyon, his large frame slumped in a folding patio chair and his huge hands holding a cold drink, Dr. Wedel reflects on his work.

"You see, the white man begins his history of the Great Plains with the coming of Colorado. Until now, there has been nothing like what we are trying to prove in the annals of Plains history," he said.

What he is trying to prove is that Indians were living on the Plains as far back as 10,000 years ago.

"We have a good line on Indians here about 1300 to 1400 A.D.," he said. "If we can get a sequence before that, I would guess that it would take us back several thousands of years.

"We know, for example, there were several cultures of Indians here, in several periods of time. And, they had the same problems with climatic conditions that we have in this area today. We've found several levels of ruins, each covered by wind-blown dust and this means the Indians here thousands of years ago were plagued by drought, and dust, and inadequate rainfall."

Dr. Wedel said the white man had to learn the hard way about weather problems on the plains, simply because "he didn't realize people were here before him."

"Today," he said, "the white man calls on Uncle Sam to bail him out (of hardships due to climate), but all the Indian could do was move."

Wedel joined the Smithsonian in 1936, and over the years has worked in the field most of those summers.

"I'm still curious about some things I was curious about 25 years ago," he said. "I guess I always will be. But then, I've learned a lot, too."

Learning a lot often means developing philosophical views, and Wedel has a few opinions concerning archeological and historical theories.

"In future generations, say 5,000 years from now, there will be no archeology," he said. "Records are being kept today and archeology is being destroyed. Everytime someone digs up a lot to build a house, or everytime someone paves a road, he tears up a lot of archeological history."

And, to an extent, he believes history—"as it is taught in schools"—is misleading.

"We usually start American history with the Pilgrims in the East and the Spanish in the West," he said. "And then we emphasize things the English did. We generally ignore the Spanish

County Warned That Fuel Will Be In Short Supply Soon

Randall County Commissioners opened gasoline and diesel fuel bids Monday and were warned by an Amarillo gasoline distributor that in five years diesel fuel will be so scarce "you'll be begging for bidders."

Due to a short meeting period, the commissioners opened their bids, looked them over and tabled choosing a distributor.

They discussed the bids long enough to hear Wayne Snider, an Amarillo distributor for Gulf Oil, tell them of the scarcity of diesel fuel.

"In five years, there won't be anybody here to bid," he said. "Consumption of diesel fuel is greater than what we're getting out of the ground. All the oil fields are running 100 per cent."

County commissioners also opened bids from several life insurance agencies for a cancer insurance policy for county employees.

The insurance will be offered county employees on a paycheck withdrawal system.

Lone Star Insurance, represented by Nelson Cash and Charles H. Fritch Jr., was given authority to contact county employees about the insurance, which would cost each employee $2.50 per month for individual coverage or $3.75 for family coverage.

Following the regularly scheduled commissioners' meeting, they sat at a board of equalization and prepared to hear as many as 61 citizens with tax problems.

Only three county property owners showed up.

The commissioners lowered the valuation of Western Beef of Amarillo from an original valuation of $828,000 to about $600,000 after Charles Hughes and Roy Johnson of the company appeared.

The valuation was based on seven grain elevators and one office building.

Also appearing before the board was Reuel Nash, who owns part of Palo Duro Shopping Center, and Clay Cooper.

Nash contended that the appraisal made by the county tax assessor-collector on his building was not equal to an appraisal made by the same office on a building which houses Cooper's Market, according to Mrs. Audrey Bruse, assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse said Nash's building was appraised at about $7 per square foot and Cooper's at about $4 per square foot.

County commissioners said they would physically inspect both buildings to make a fair determination of value.

One skydiver of a group which jumped over Conner Park Saturday as a part of Canyon Days celebration landed just shy of his target. The parachutist floated slowing to the ground in the slight breeze, thrilling young and old who were attending a barbecue at the park.

Black Professor Hired at WTSU

West Texas State University has hired its second full-time black faculty member.

Dr. T.D. Freidell, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, said Monday Fortunatas L. Masha, a native and citizen of Tanzania, has been hired for a one-year period.

Masha is to teach in the Department of Journalism. Freidell said Masha will arrive in Canyon prior to the opening of the fall semester at WTSU.

Currently, Masha is a doctoral candidate at Southern Illinois University. He expects to receive his Ph.D. in Journalism from the school at the close of the summer term.

He received his bachelor's degree in journalism from SIU in 1965 and his master's degree from SIU in 1970.

Freidell said Masha, 31, remains his Tanzanian citizenship and has been active in politics in that African country. He served as a member of the Tanzania National Assembly from 1965 to 1968. From 1966-67, he was national publicity secretary of the Tanganyika Africa Union. He has also been active in student life at Southern Illinois, Freidell said.

Masha is founder and currently president of the African Student Association at SIU.

While at Southern Illinois, Masha has for three years been a research assistant in the Mass Communications Research Center at the SIU School of Journal-

180 Lots Under Development

Building Prospects Are Bright

By TROY MARTIN

Prospects for new residential construction in Canyon are brightest in recent years, according to four developers with property now being made available as home sites.

Figures supplied by these four developers indicate 180 lots developed or under development for new home construction.

In the meantime building permits soared to $5,389,129 for the first half of 1972 but this includes $4,840,000 for new science and library buildings being constructed on the West Texas State University campus.

As of June 30, residential construction in Canyon came to $502,549 for the year so far and commercial construction and remodeling to $76,000. Over a similar period last year construction came to $678,810, according to E.A. Collier, city building inspector.

Collier is optimistic over building prospects for the remainder of the year. "I think things are beginning to pick up," he said Tuesday morning.

Hunsley Hills Developers have spent about $32,885 on street, water and sewer improvement to clear the way for home construction on some 45 lots situated between Village Drive and Canyon Creek Apartments in Hunsley Hills.

Arch Hunsley said homes will range in price from $22,500 to $29,500. He stated that 19 lots will be opened at first with more than 20 others available.

Builder in Hunsley Hills will be Henry Lemaster. Homes will be speculative and built to order.

Jack Taylor said 41 lots have been developed for residential dwellings in Pioneer Estates. Building is already under way there.

COVERING FUMBLE
By Mitch Jones

One tragedy of the aging process is that the "tongue" often outlasts the mind.

Some $62,000 has been spent on the newest Pioneer Estates project for improvements, according to city hall.

Aubrey Crossland said 20 lots are ready for home construction in Hidden Valley with 20 more being prepared through use of fill taken from excavation for the new science building on the WTSU campus.

Street improvement for the project came to $39,000.

Crossland said both speculative and made-to-order homes will be constructed in Hidden Valley. Three speculative houses are under way and five will be started within the next month and a half, he reported.

Bill Davis and Larry Hooper said some $36,000 worth of street, (See HOUSES Page 2)

FROM THE
CANYON RIM

At this writing it appeared that the standard bearer for the Democratic Party would be George McGovern.

This was good news for Republicans everywhere. Even high ranking Democrats held no hope that radical George could put it together in November.

Scoop Jackson on national television all but called McGovern a moron. "Nonsense," is the way Jackson, himself a candidate, described McGovern's platform.

It's going to be awful hard on Democratic candidates like Graham Purcell who is running against Republican Bob Price in the new 13th District.

Purcell has already said he would shun McGovern, not having anything to do with his campaign in Texas. The question is whether or not this will be enough.

From this point it looks like 1964 in reverse. If this is true a lot of Republicans are going to ride in on Nixon's coat tail this fall.

It's mighty hard for a candidate for congress to mount an effective campaign while having to apologize at every turn for the national party's candidate for President.

When a candidate repudiates the national ticket it does not gain him any votes from members of the opposing party but it certainly gains him enemies among the members of his own party ardently supporting the national ticket.

As I see it this is what Purcell is faced with right now. Like any other candidate from this part of Texas, Purcell HAS to repudiate the national ticket to stand a chance. How much it will help him and how much it will cost him of the vote of McGovern people here will be interesting to see.

Whatever hopes Barefoot Sanders might have had for becoming US senator were lessened Monday night with the vote on the California delegation. At that time it became apparent that McGovern would be the nominee.

I think Sanders had an uphill go of it against incumbent John Tower anyway. With the McGovern albatross around his neck it will be high impossible.

Figure on six more years of little John if indeed the Democrats do nominate McGovern as they now appear certain to do.

I am always appalled when I watch political conventions. The blatant unfairness of political figures in both parties is hard to reconcile with trusted leadership they purport to provide our country.

McGovern's position on the California delegation was exactly opposite the rule of proportionate representation which McGovern himself fathered.

It is odd indeed to see the author of proportionate representation winning the Democratic nomination when he polled less than 25 per cent of the vote in the party's primaries.

I also have been amazed at quota representation enforced upon delegations from various states. South Carolina was challenged because only 31 per cent of the state's delegates were women.

Guidelines laid down and apparently being enforced by the convention call for representation by sex, race and age.

But there is no consistency. Percentage representation by age is construed to mean the very young; by race, minority groups; and by sex, women.

This could become very confusing. With just as much legality the Baptists in this state could claim percentage representation on the Texas delegation as could Catholics, Methodists and members of the Church of Christ.

German-Americans are a minority group and could ask for their quota as could Irish, Poles and Italians ad infinitum.

Let's take a look at a few McGovern proposals which Scoop Jackson called "nonsense."

On Southeast Asia: McGovern says he'll get us out, unilaterally, completely, unconditionally out whether or not the North Vietnamese agree to return our prisoners of war.

McGovern said on national television that he would approach Hanoi and "beg" the communist government to let our prisoners go.

This the communists will never willingly do. Prisoners have been brutalized and the oriental North Vietnamese would lose face if they were liberated to tell their story to the world. Witness the fact that the Japanese burned many of our prisoners alive as they faced defeat at the close of World War II.

What McGovern is really saying is that the people who have given their all for this country will be deserted to die in communist prison camps.

McGovern proposes a minimum income with federal "grants" for everyone from paupers to billionaires. Some expert with a fast pencil figures that this plan alone would call for $27 billion a year in new taxes.

McGovern would slash $32 billion off national defense but would spend a great deal of that amount in retraining and paying at 80 per cent of full salary the people thrown out of work by such a slash.

Most of McGovern's proposals are fuzzy in detail.

As his campaign unfolds (if he indeed wins the nomination), I will leave you to decide for yourself whether you agree with Scoop Jackson that most of these proposals are "nonsense."

and the Indian.

"I grew up at a time when scholars were saying that Coronado was the first man on the Great Plains. The theory was that no one could have made it on the plains before the day of the gun and the horse and the plow."

In his current diggings on the Curry Ranch, Wedel is going through trash heaps, trying to find Indian weapon points and charcoal that could be used to date an era. He has found some stone arrow points. Which leads to more philosophy.

"Technology today is fly-by-night stuff compared to past ages," he said. "Take the Alaska Pipeline. Five hundred miles of pipe 48 inches in diameter. In 5,000 years, it will be nothing but a streak of rust. So will what we dump into our present trash dumps. But the Indians had those stone weapons. And those are, in most cases, much intact and readily identifiable even today, after 10,000 years.

Wedel said he has traced, and is satisfied, that Coronado moved into Central Kansas before turning back in the middle 16th Century.

Of Coronado, he reflected: "I think Coronado was a hard and ruthless man. But you have to consider the time he lived in. He was leading an army of 300 roughnecks. He had to be. Most

Phone Price To Remain

No hike in telephone prices is seen in the near future for Canyon, even though the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has requested a hike in Amarillo.

Mike Patrick, who is in charge of the Canyon telephone office, said Tuesday the company's rate hike request will be limited only to Amarillo even though Amarillo and Canyon share what the phone company calls "extended area service."

Patrick warned, though, that Southwestern Bell officials constantly monitor the rate of return made by their various systems.

"In many cases where it's too low, we've gone to the city commissions to request a more reasonable rate," he said.

Tidbits here and there

By CAROL CRAIN

OVER ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY PERSONS welcomed Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell to Canyon Saturday evening.

The coffee, held at the Bill Sternbergs, featured a formal table set in red, white, and blue with silver appointments. An array of finger sandwiches, dips, chips, and cookies as well as punch and coffee was available to the guests.

Sweetie had decorated the patio area with artificial potted plants in a rainbow of bright summer colors. The patio area also had a serving area featuring some of the goodies prepared by the hostesses.

Long dresses were worn by many of the guests attending throughout the evening while others wore short summer frocks made of crisp fabrics.

Nancy Purcell talked with some of the WTSU personnel about events preceding her graduation from the Canyon-based university. The charming Amarillo girl is happy to be living here though campaigning will keep the family on the go frequently.

If you were unable to attend you might like to drop the Purcells a note of welcome to Canyon Creek Apt. #78. I am sure you will have another opportunity to meet them personally in the future.

MRS. GLENNA WILSON, Canyon artist-writer, is back from a trip to California and a visit with golf-pro-writer Brad and his family.

Glenna mentioned that the trip was most enjoyable and I understand that she was commissioned to do two paintings while out there.

If you have missed meeting Glenna, you have missed one of Canyon's most charming personalities—so make a point to do so.

A CUTE REFRIGERATOR SIGN made of felt, alphabet pasta, and magnets features a cut-out of a cow with a sign on its back reading "Holy Cow-Are You Eating Again?". A cute idea for weight watchers-whether you're in the club or not, don't you think?

Maybe someone will make me one—I could use the reminder.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO the seashore pick up some large shells. They make cute salad bowls for summer and/or soap dishes for the bath.

BIOGRAPHIES OF TWO OUTSTANDING WOMEN who are WT-exes will be among those throughout America to be included in Who's Who in American Women.

Mrs. B. Raymond Evans of Tulsa is one of these truly fine choices for Who's Who. Thelma is the very active and charming wife of a WTSU Regent. She sits on the ex's board here as first vice president, does lots of church work, is active with the Progressive Study Club in her hometown, the WTSU Phoenix Club, and was the recent recipient of the ESA Diana Award.

Miss Jo Moore of Vega sits on the National Council of Delta Zeta, has been named the Outstanding Educator for her county, is a director of the country club there, and is also in the Phoenix Club.

Both women are active in the Canyon Delta Zeta Alumnae.

CANYON DAYS is over for another year, but it was most enjoyable—many, many Canyonites attended the parade and barbecue. Bright colors, candy kisses tossed to the crowd, pennies, horses, bands, dignitaries, and clowns were featured.

One sign seen at the parade and barbecue told of the Happy Days Picnic upcoming in August—everyone here is welcome to attend I am sure—check some of Mary Neal's columns for events and dates.

FREE PUPPIES—SOON! My house, six, small variety-five white and one black. They are now ten days old. Don't worry I'll let you know!

HERE'S A PARTY PLEASER! Taste tested at a patio party this week is Mrs. Jack Hazelwood's Peanut Brittle Ice Cream!

Mary says you can just leave out the candy if you prefer a plain vanilla. PEANUT BRITTLE ICE CREAM

Put in mixer, then beat til thick:
½ c. sugar
4 egg yolks
Pour in very slowly (or you will scramble the eggs)
2 c. scalded milk

Pour this mixture back into the pan and bring to a boil; then let cool. Pour mixture into blender (if you desire) and add:

¼ tsp salt
2 tsp. vanilla

Blend for just a moment so mixture will be creamy
Pour into freezer and add:

2 c. whipping cream
½ lb. peanut brittle
Freeze and serve.

"It really is easy and you don't really use every bowl in your kitchen", Mary notes.

mined by examination of what a willing buyer would pay and a willing seller would take for the system.

The city manager said that most probably the charter's option concerning purchase of the company's system would not be exercised if service was equitable to Canyon citizens. He said this would negate the concept of willing buyer and seller.

Louder also contended that for one city, Pioneer's formula would be much too complex to apply.

"The intent of the clause is the protection of the citizens of Canyon," he said. "Your formula is so complicated it almost renders our clause as useless. It's conceivable we could end up in court on almost every point."

The Pioneer representatives said Louder's formula would render far below a fair price for the system.

Lampe said his company proposed a formula which would insure Pioneer received a fair price for the system no matter when—during inflationary or deflationary times—a sale was necessitated.

"Under this formula, the actual value of the system is what you'll be looking at" he said. "The actual value will be realized."

Christopher's proposal closely follows that submitted by Pioneer.

Commissioners agreed to study the proposal and to refer it to the city's engineer for study.

Lampe said he would refer the proposal to Pioneer officials.

Area Farmers Warned Of Disease

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has issued a news release which ends: "If you have sick pigs, suspect cholera first."

And, while on the subject of animal diseases, the Texas Animal Health Commission has advised revaccination of horses in an effort to prevent an outbreak of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis such as occurred in Texas last fall.

The latest hog cholera bulletin tells of 862 head of hogs infected in nine separate outbreaks in Dawson, Terry and Mitchell Counties on the South Plains. Texas Animal Health officials at Amarillo said they have not had any reports of cholera in the High Plains area since an outbreak at Dumas the first of May.

"Randall County hasn't had an outbreak in the recent past," a TAHC spokesman said, "but we do advise hog farmers to watch for sickness."

The spokesman said the VEE

disease that affected horses across the state and in neighboring states last year may be under control.

"We have had a few cases of VEE downstate, in South Texas, recently," he said, "but it seems to be under control. Last year it was mandatory for horses to be vaccinated against VEE, but the serum only lasts a year. What we are doing is simply urging horse owners to revaccinate in hopes of preventing any further outbreak."

tion building will also contain administrative rooms and multi-purpose classrooms.

The Sunday evening action climaxed a year and a half of planning and study with the entire congregation involved in committee work. The recommendations of the work-study committees were then translated by the architects into schematic drawings and a model.

The master plan's administrative wing estimated at a cost of $50,000 as well as some items of furniture and parking lot paving were deleted from the present building plans to be reserved for future projects.

The present building of the First Presbyterian Church, built in 1926, made news earlier this year when plaster fell from the ceiling on worshippers during Sunday service.

tional meeting, moderated by the Rev. Baldwin Stribling, is subject to approval by the Palo Duro Union Presbytery and also acceptance of requests for loans from both private sources and the Board of National Missions. According to Mrs. Ples Harper, promotion chairman, no obstacles are anticipated as previous guidelines have been complied with. About half of the needed funds have already been secured in cash and pledges.

As soon as action is officially sanctioned, the trustees will proceed to exercise their option to buy Block 16 from the Foster Estate Trust. The price of the land, located on the perimeter of choice residential sites, was given as $20,000.

The Amarillo architectural firm of Earl Parge and Robert Hucker will also be contacted to draw up working plans and obtain bids for construction. The firm has designed and supervised building of several structures in Canyon, including the Lutheran Church, West Texas cafeteria, and several dormitories at WTSU.

Ground breaking is anticipated for next December or January, and completion of the construction is expected in about one year, according to James Irwin, chairman of the executive building committee.

The proposed church will feature sanctuary with seating arrangement of both choir and congregation on three sides with aisles converging diagonally on a worship center illuminated by recessed background and overhead lighting. There will be a beamed ceiling and stained glass panels on each side toward the back. The Christian educa-

Youth Charged In Drug Case, Then Assault

Two Amarillo teenagers were arrested early Monday by members of the Amarillo Police Department and charged with possession of a dangerous drug, a major misdemeanor.

The two were arraigned before acting Randall County Judge Elton Cox and bond was set at $500 apiece.

Robert Stephen Ray, 19, of 5504 Alvarado, and Kathleen Marie Rickwartz, 19, of 2804 Magnolia, were arrested by officers at 12:48 a.m. Monday at 3401 S. Bell in Amarillo. They are charged with illegal possession of amphetamines.

Ray was later charged with aggravated assault after an affray involving Randall County Sheriff's Deputy Merle Strickland.

Strickland said he was escorting Ray to a jail cell in the Canyon courthouse during mid-afternoon Monday when the youth struck him in the face.

Ray appeared before Judge Cox again Monday, was arraigned and bond on the assault charge was set at $500.

Ray pleaded not guilty to both the possession and assault charges.

WTSU Instructor Pushes Course In Advertising Campaign

A poster displays a svelte blonde in a slinky evening dress and the caption: "Do you want to lose 10 pounds quick?"

In smaller type below is added: "Well, philosophy won't help, but try it anyway, you might be glad you did."

The advertisement was one of several that appeared recently on the West Texas State University campus.

The "product" being advertised is Ethics or Philosophy 204-1, being offered at 10:50 a.m. daily during the second session of summer school starting Monday (July 17).

The advertising campaign was the idea of Arthur Johnson, assistant professor of philosophy, to stimulate interest and enrollment in the subject.

One of his ads, a takeoff on a promotion for a popular deodorant, reads: "Who would tell you..." And below a picture of a somewhat perplexed looking man the caption adds: "Philosophy 204-1... we want to clear the air."

Johnson said his advertising work has hardly been a labor of love.

"I have no respect for advertising methods at all," he said. "In fact, they are rather a negation of what I am trying to do, in a way, that is, to show what is enriching and worthwhile about the study of philosophy."

"Advertising almost always appeals to the lowest intellectual level—to the common, the mundane, even the devious."

Price Calms 1 Resident

Congressman Bob Price teamed up with a Khiva clown Saturday and influenced at least one Canyon resident before the Canyon Days parade.

Price was greeting parade participants just before start time, when he heard his name shouted from across the lot.

"Hey, Congressman, we need a little congressional courage over here," someone yelled.

Price sought out the source of the voice and found a parade organizer trying to persuade a tearful and fearful five- or six-year-old boy to join the parade procession.

Apparently, the boy had decorated his bicycle in anticipation of riding in the parade, but had second thoughts when he saw the crowd.

Price talked to the child, and together with a Khiva clown, persuaded the youngster to join the other Canyon youths who rode down 4th Ave.

He attributed the unpopularity of philosophy not to a lack of interest but to a lack of knowledge of the subject.

"Many people don't even know what philosophy is. It is literally an unknown quantity, not taught in most high schools," he said.

"Students can readily understand the importance of science, psychology or history, but philosophy holds for them an aura of the otherworldly, the incomprehensible realm of the ivory tower."

Johnson said he felt the Ethics course would be particularly interesting to all in philosophy itself.

"Cataclysmic events, such as the Vietnam war, scientific advances, the decline of the family, lack of credibility in government and violence on the streets and the screen, all have forced every individual to consider the philosophical and ethical implications of modern life," he said.

"If people knew and understood the value of the study of philosophy, it would surely sell itself," he added.

News Brief

Dennis Clyde Haley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Haley, Jr., 35 Village Dr., received his master of science degree in aerospace engineering at the close of the spring semester at the University of Texas in Austin.

Programs Feature Vincent Price

BY JUNE DAYEN

The moment of decision in the process of building a new church came last Sunday evening for members of the First Presbyterian congregation when they gave the go-ahead by voice vote to erect a $319,134 structure in the city.

The proposed structure will consist of sanctuary, narthex, Christian education classrooms, and fellowship hall covering about 15,000 square feet. Its location is on the block bounded by 10th Ave. on the north, 9th Ave. on the south, 18th St. on the west, and 19th St. on the east. The decision of the congrega-

Arch-villain-art collector Vincent Price headlines six educational entertainment programs scheduled during the next school year at West Texas State University.

Dr. John Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts at WTSU, said Price will join five other groups and individuals who will come to the WTSU campus during the fall and spring semesters sponsored by the Faculty Special Program Series.

Three programs are scheduled for the fall term and three for the spring.

Dejan's Olympia Brass Band, one of New Orleans marching bands, will appear in an unusual strolling and standing concert on the campus Sept. 14.

Green said the band, which specializes in music for all occasions—weddings, funerals, picnics, parades, etc.—will begin its concert somewhere near the dormitories on campus. The band will march around the campus for about 30 minutes and then perform in a building on campus. Following the formal performance, the band will march from the building and finish up somewhere else on campus.

New Shop In Town

A new gift and card shop is opening in Palo Duro Village Shopping Center.

It will feature Hallmark Cards, gifts, records and gourmet items as well as books.

The shop will be owned by Plains Development, Inc., based in Plainview. It will be operated by Sarah Cameron.

"It will be as nice as any Hallmark store in the country," declared a spokesman for the management.

basketball star, will appear on Oct. 10.

Green said Russell will talk informally with his audience about young people today and their problems.

The Dorian Woodwind Quintet from New York will appear in concert Nov. 1. The quintet, which has performed throughout the world, consists of artists from the state university of New York.

Pauline Frederick, NBC News United Nations correspondent, will begin the guest appearances for the second semester with a lecture on Feb. 12.

Miss Frederick will speak on the U.N. and the world today. A 14-year veteran with NBC, she was named woman of the year in 1964 by the American Association of University Women for her "contribution to international understanding."

On March 2, Vincent Price will appear to speak on 'Vincent Price: the man, the actor and the villain.' Price, who is a well-known motion picture, television and theatre star, is equally well known to lovers of art, collectors of cook books, readers of his books and newspaper column.

America's former ambassador to France, Russia and the Philippines, Charles E. Bohlen, will speak March 29 on American-Soviet relations.

Bohlen, who began his career in foreign service in 1929, has served under 10 secretaries and six presidents. He is the author of "The Transformation of American Foreign Policy."

In announcing next year's faculty program series, Green pointed out that in the past the series has consisted of as many as nine programs.

He said this year only six are being provided so university departments may have money available to attract speakers on their own.

Rodeo Is Success—Mary Ann Sims Is Miss Happy

BY MARY NEAL HENRY

THE LAST FEW months have certainly been a paradox. Everything seems to be standing still and yet moving twice as fast. Things are finally looking as if we are progressing. After using over two hundred pounds of "all purpose mud" (I call it texture), I said that I'd always read about these rich women who take these mud baths to become beautiful and here I'd been covered in it for two weeks and it hadn't helped a bit. This week it's paint. That takes three coats: one on the house, one on me, and one on the floor.

DICK AND JACK Ratjen produced the Stamford Rodeo, the largest in the world, on July 1, 2, 3, and 4th. They've been producing this show for eight years.

Over 10,000 attended on Saturday night. They had 186 calf ropers to rope two calves each, 176 double muggers (2 go's also); 46 Old Time Ropers who were 55 and older and the top ten of those received a second calf, which made 428 calves roped beside all the other events. Dick said they started roping at 8:30 A.M. Sunday and finished at a quarter until five without even stopping for lunch. They also had over a hundred barrel racers.

WE RAN into Dick and Jan in Canyon Saturday at the park. Course we asked about the alligator. Dick says he can't pick him up by the tail anymore. I still want to see him swim.

LLOYD RAHLFS and Tom (and Maude and May) advertised Happy Days in Canyon's big parade.

THE HIGH PLAIN'S Children's Home in Amarillo sends out a bulletin which this month listed the donors who donated in honor of Mrs. Vivian Wesley.

Janetta McNeill called and told us that it was listed in a special way.

PAULINE AND WOODROW Wesley attended the rodeo in Amarillo on July 4th and the Pony Express races in Canyon over the weekend.

SATURDAY NIGHT, July 8, Vonnie Fields was installed as Master of the Happy Lodge No. 1008 A.F. and A.M. in Happy's second Open Masonic Installation. Alden Mann served as installing officer and Bill McCarty as installing marshal.

Brother Lawrence Tucker pronounced the invocation. Bill Beavers provided the special music. Other officers installed were senior warden, Frank Tirey, junior warden, Ervin Wilson, treasurer, W.T. Robinsons, secretary, Harold Eakes, chaplain, Alden Mann; senior deacon, Larry Burks; junior deacon, Kip Morgan; senior steward, Alti White; junior steward, John Frank Toles, and Tiler, Rayford Shipman. Mary Ann Sims registered guests. Mrs. Mildred Fields and Sandy Railsback served punch and cake from a table adorned with cut work linen cloth and centered with blue flowers. Rhonda Fellers, Barbara and Beverly Dowd and Linda Railsback also helped serve. Ladies and friends of installed officers served refreshments. Several out of town guests also attended.

MARY ANN SIMS was crowned MISS HAPPY Saturday night in the Happy Jaycee-Ette sponsored contest. Marilyn Venhaus was first runner up and Karen Murdock was second runner-up. Kathy Bates crowned Mary Ann and presented her a bouquet of red roses from the Happy Jaycee-Ettes. Lisa Payne and Bonnie Briscoe were also in the top five finalists. The setting of "Beauties and Blossoms" was flowers, a gazebo and a patio complete with picket fence.

MELISSA NULL won Little Miss Happy and was crowned by the retiring Little Miss Teri Patching, who also presented Melissa a bouquet of red roses from the Happy Jaycee-Ettes. Lisa Johnson and Sharla Miller were runners-up in the Little Miss Contest.

BILL LOONEY did an excellent job as master of ceremonies. He told a story about "Who caused the walls of Jericho to fall?" Of course this was a question he asked one day that he was substituting teaching at school and the question went through several channels. And did you know that Bill never did find out who did it?

JUDY SHIPMAN played for the contest and did an excellent job and a quintet from Nazareth provided special music during the judges' decisions. Judges were Mrs. Jack Bradley and Don Young of Tulsa and Dr. Dean Beddow of Amarillo.

IT WAS A good job, co-chairmen, Dottie Foster and Betty Stockett.

GEORGE TIREY, Vice President of Happy Jaycees, announced during the contest on Saturday night, that the Happy Day Celebration plans are well under way for August 17, 18, and 19th with a rodeo and dance on the 18th and 19th. There will be the annual free bar-b-que for old timers on August 19th and the horseshoe pitching contest and beard contest, and some activities for the children in the park. All this after the parade that morning. Y'all come!

RICKY McPherson, Jim Whitlow, Harold Starkey, and Lloyd Venhaus took the Happy Chiefs to Amarillo last weekend to see the Amarillo Giants play Shreveport. Tim Moudy, Doug Sims, Vince Price, Jimmy House, Mark Tackitt, Wade Grubbs, Scott Railsback, Steve Altman, Corin Freeman, Bobby Strohmeier, Clay Simons, Kirk Altman and Dan E. and Don E. Venhaus got to attend this big outing.

KARLEEN and Lee Moore accompanied several members of the Happy FHA and FFA on a swimming party last week.

NETHA AND Dub McCarley entertained on the Fourth with hamburgers and home-made ice cream in their yard. Enjoying the festivities were Peggy Bell and Doug, Randy, Dennis, Danny and Wade; Ken Henry; Neil, Tanya and Cory McCarley, Johnny, Buck and Becky McCarley; Mike Sims, Freddy Briscoe, and Collette and DeAnn McCarley.

LOUISE, GEORGE and Nancy White, Vickie House, Lean Bell Cabe, and Poe Cabe are gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas fishing and vacationing.

RAINBOW GIRLS will be attending a Joint Meeting in Canyon on Saturday, July 15. Kay Spear, Brenda Parker, Linda and Brenda Railsback will be participating in the meeting.

CHARLOTTE AND Roman Weavers and their Leslie and Romona are visiting in Jefferson City, Missouri, where Roman's brother has been seriously ill.

MARY ANN AND Don Magness and their Donna and Debbie went to Dallas on Saturday morning. They met Donna's roommate and her husband who are now attending North Texas State for supper night, went to Six Flags on Sunday and through the "Apparel Mart" school on Monday. Donna plans to attend this school of fashion, and managing this fall.

CONNIE HAND stayed in Houston to visit an aunt and her family (on Fay's side) and has returned this week.

MICKEY WARLICK, AN evangelist who has visited our church many times, is in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock very seriously ill.

MRS. L. W. Rhoads returned to St. Anthony's Hospital for surgery again on Tuesday morning.

VESPER SIMS IS very seriously ill in Neblett Hospital.

FLOYD SWEARINGEN IS ill in Swisher Memorial Hospital and unable, at this time, to have visitors.

CAMMA LOU TACKITT's father, A. C. Walker of Panhandle, died Saturday night at his home in Panhandle. Our sympathy goes out to Camma Lou and the Tackitt family.

THE MUSTARD SEED, Happy's famous coffee house, is now open for ages 2 through 40, it is open to all ages from two o'clock until four o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. It is open on Friday night until 11:00 and on Saturday night until 11:30. Steve Vernon says they'd be happy to have you sponsor some night.

LANELLE TODD SANG a beautiful special on Sunday morning. The message of it was most appropriate here.

MELVIN HOOTEN, PASTOR of a Baptist Church in Snyder, Okla. was the pulpit guest on Sunday evening.

STEVE VERNON HAS just recently returned from a visit to Houston.

ADREN AND SUSANNE Cunningham and their Billy and Jody have just returned from visiting friends in Dallas and relatives in Florida. They flew on one of those big 747's. And then they dropped in on us for a sur prise visit on Tuesday evening. Come again, soon! And stay longer.

WALKER AND NANCY Parker went to Abilene Saturday to help form a new state chapter of the Texas Commercial Rabbit Raisers Association. Walker is president of this chapter up here and Nancy is secretary. They organized the Big Country Commercial Rabbit Raisers Association at the Jodie and Bobbie Pittman home in Abilene. Nancy drew up their charter so they could be represented at the board of director's meeting in Amarillo next Saturday. And they drove home in severe weather. Post had over 3 1/2 inches of rain when they came through there. They didn't get home until almost five A.M.

AARON AND JEANNIE Parker went, too. And on the way, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kook at Plainview; the Jim Joiner Rabbity at Heckville. Nancy's uncle, Cliff Kellum and his son at Snyder; Elmer Sandashy and Jerry Ertel in Clyde. Elmer and Jerry were weighing rabbits for the co-op truck to pick and take to the Amarillo market. Eventful trip.

JAY WADE JOHNSON was honored with a birthday party and big "family" get-together last week. Mandi Shipman got to spend the night with him.

BARBARA AND KEN Danner and their Noel and Karen and Ernestine and Vilo Danner met the Jerry Don Danners at Lake Brownwood for the holidays. More of that family was also included.

SHERMAN COX HAS been hospitalized with a broken leg and some cracked ribs because a horse fell with him at his home last week. Sherman may be home by the time you read this.

LORAIN (NEWSOME) LACY of Centre, Colo., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Newsome of Wayside, and sister and their families Kirksie and Marilyn Cope and The Dean Todds.

THE TRI STATE High School Rodeo Club met on Tuesday night. They continued plans for their rodeo which is to be held August 4 and 5 at 8 o'clock each night. T S H S R A Rules will prevail and this is strictly high school students only. Hugh Cooper will produce this show and Henry "Ping" Crawford will be announcing. There is also a 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon performance. Boy's events include bull riding, bareback roping, tie down roping, ribbon roping, chute dogging, and team roping. Girl's events to be held are goat tying, barrel racing, pole bending, breakaway roping and calf hobbin. Books are open and will close July 28, so be sure and get your entry in. There is no way that I can get you in any later in this Tri-State High School Rodeo. They abide by their association's rules.

Happy Jaycees will sponsor a dance after the Saturday night performance.

THEY ALSO DECIDED to

not have the flea auction. But they are going to have a trail ride, an all day affair. And Tom is "Trail Boss." We laughed, too!

HAPPY JAYCEES REST stop was a success! They were open forty hours and served 73 families from several states, one as far away as Wisconsin. They plan to have another on Labor Day. It was interesting to those who worked.

VINCE PRICE HIT a home run and Jimmy House hit a fly ball even though the Chiefs lost to the Dodgers 9 to 22 on Tuesday night. Coran Freeman played an extremely good game, his coach reported.

HELEN BRYAN IS home and Rowdy Quinn is taking care of her. She is recuperating nicely.

MRS. BRIGGS, THE rodeo club called off their flea auction, but I'll find out about the Happy Day Celebration and let you know.

LINDA AND BOB McDonald and their David and Ronnie, Jettie and Amos Ratjen, Kelly and Terry McDonald are spending this week at Moseman's Lake.

JAY HOARCE MC CARLEY is in Neblett Hospital this week after an emergency appendectomy.

Thank you for the nice comments.

See Ya!

Belyews Win Yard Award

By CINDY CAPPS

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST wishes to Linda and Scott Holcomb on their marriage of May 27th. After a great honeymoon in Colorado Springs, Linda and Scott are at home at 243 LaFiesta.

THE YARD OF the Month award for the month of June went to Jim Belyew of 227 LaFiesta. Joanne Scott of 233 LaFiesta was the recipient of the July Yard of the Month award. Both of these yards are lovely as are many more in Siesta Playa. The word from the management is that it is extremely hard to choose only one yard each month because they are all looking great. By the way, did you know that the winner each month gets a free dinner at Sutphen's Bar-B-Q?

SIESTA PLAZA IS most fortunate to have a Vacation Bible School July 10-14 right in our own Recreation Center. Sponsored by Grand Avenue Baptist Church of Amarillo, children four years of age through the sixth grade are encouraged to come from 9:00 a.m. till 11 a.m. Refreshments will be served. There will be swimming in the Siesta Plaza pool from 11-11:30 (with parents' permission).

JUNE WAS A thrilling month for Pat and Tex Reed of 247 LaFiesta. They were visited by all four of their children and four grandchildren all the way from Massachusetts. Pat and Tex were surprised on June 19th with an early arrival of daughter Mrs. Sandra Pellerin and granddaughter Kim, age 2. The Pellerins live in Lynn, Mass. Daughter Mrs. Ruth Murray and granddaughter Michelle, age two also arrived early from Revere, Mass. On June 25th, son Mr. Skip Bowes of Lynn, Mass., and daughter Mrs. Cheryl Repecho with grandchildren Jay, age five, and Kellie, age three, all from Pittsfield, Mass., arrived along with Francis Martini also of Pittsfield, Mass. So as you can see the Reeds really had a house full for three weeks and they loved every minute of it.

SIESTA PLAZA WOULD like to welcome all newcomers to the park. Some recent families to move in Siesta Plaza are Mr. and Mrs. Don Friemel, 100 Siesta; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horn and their sons Garland, 16, and Clinton, 15, 145 Siesta; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, 213 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bouywa and their eight month old baby, 221 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ford, 239 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ford and their three year old son, 256 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bedard and son Donald, 15, 223 Loma Linda; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Robertson and sons, Roger, 8 and Greg, 2, 244 Loma Linda.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cox of 216 LaFiesta on the birth of a baby girl. Congratulations also to Rod Bolmer, 233 Loma Linda, who is getting married soon.

JULY 22 IS Siesta Plaza Appreciation Day. The management is giving the park residents a free dinner at the Recreation Center. If you haven't already signed up in the office for the volleyball Tournament then you need to do so. It ought to be great fun and so we're looking forward to seeing you all there.

DO CALL IF you have some news. My number is 353-2024 and I'd love to hear from you.

Gene Howe Fishing Is Skimpy

Gene Howe News

BY TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS: SOME PEOPLE HAVE better luck at fishing than others. Take the Jimmy Whites for instance. After checking the wind velocity, water temperature, location of the moon, turning around three times and tossing a little salt over their shoulders, Jimmy and Winona took off to Possum Kingdom for some sand bass fishing. Word was out that the sand bass were doing their thing, and the Whites wanted to do their thing, too, which in this case was catch their fair share of this flat fish, which has a flavor rather like crappie. Neither the fish nor the Whites had much luck. Winona caught a total of forty inches of fish and Jimmy is not talking about his catch. It was 113 degrees in the shade; the fish were not running (or eating), the Whites weren't catching (or eating), so they said "uncle" and came home to cooler climes. Better luck next time, folks.

SOME OTHER GENE Howe people, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tensionn, and children, Terry and Denise, did not have any better luck at fishing, but they did get some to eat though. After visiting friends in Dallas and the Fort Worth area, the Tensionns made the rounds at Six Flags over Texas, and then decided to spend a few days at Lake Stanford. Loydell was pleased that the cabin they stayed in did not come furnished with a radio, television or phone; but, as far as the Tensionns were concerned, the lake was not furnished with fish, either. They tried and tried, and finally someone with better luck took pity on them and gave them a nice big fish. The Tensionns did not know what kind of fish it was and did not care either—simply pleased that they did not have to eat sandwiches for supper again.

THE NON-FISH- catchers might ask for a few hints from the children of Bob and Margaret Ingram. While enjoying a stay at Laporte, Colorado, Kelley, Tracy and Roby caught more than their fair share of trout. In fact, they were only discouraged from catching more after mommie and daddy announced that they were tired of cleaning fish, and if the youngsters caught anymore, they (the youngsters) would have to clean their own fish. This particular pastime was rather unappealing, so Kelley, Tracy and Roby devoted more of their time to horseback riding and hiking. Once dispensing with their cleaning chores, Bob and Margaret had more time for reading and relaxing and enjoying the marvelous scenery and weather.

THE MEN IN the Mulherin family claim they caught about 17 "nice" trout while spending the weekend in Red River, New Mexico. We say "claim," because they ate the proof. Marty and his guest, Troy Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Thompson, had just about as much fun in town as they did fishing. Guy and his guest, Wayne Early, took the boys for some very scenic (and probably scary) motorcycle rides on the mountain trails. Wayne's son, David, is visiting from California, and spent his time doing whatever it is teenagers do to amuse themselves in Red River.

PETE AND ADA Solbrig did quite a bit of traveling over the past week. They and Tyra, Shari and Bart took in Six Flags over Texas, and then went visiting. And, when the Solbrigs go visiting, they go visiting in a big way. They made stops in Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Vernon and San Antonio before heading to Fredricksburg for a family reunion. Over fifty people attended the reunion and celebrated in a grand old manner, enjoying dancing, barbecue and conversing to their hearts content.

ARLENE AND F.P. Todd have enjoyed their house full of company. Mr. Todd's sister, Mrs. A. J. Dwyer, and her son, Arthur Dwyer, have been visiting from McLean. His sisters-in-law, Mrs. Bonnie Todd and Mrs. Ruby Nell Todd, have been visiting from Pampa. Not to be outnumbered, Arlene had some of her family here, too. Her uncle and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, from Phoenix, Arizona, joined in. Cindy Todd decided to have some company, too, and Lisa Erwin and Tracy Rufkin rounded out the count. The group took in "TEXAS" at the amphitheater and had a good old-fashioned picnic in Palo Duro Canyon. An awful lot of visiting and eating were indulged in, insuring a good time for all.

MR. AND MRS. Glen Kuntz and children, Kelly, McShell and Teresa, were the recent house

Resident Found Dead

Mrs. Bertha M. Schoenenberger, 67, of 411 W. 7th Ave., was found dead in her front yard about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Funeral arrangements are pending with LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Canyon.

Mrs. Schoenenberger was born Feb. 24, 1905, in Switzerland. She married John Nick Schoenenberger on Nov. 12, 1923 in Switzerland. He preceded her in death.

In 1928, the Schoenenbergers came to the United States and settled in Umbarger. They moved to Canyon in 1947.

Mrs. Schoenenberger was a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church of Canyon.

She is survived by five sons: John of Switzerland, Charles of France, Albert of Nazareth, Tex., Joseph of Lubbock, and Anthony of Hessmer, La.; eight daughters, Mrs. Anna Shumaker, Mrs. Chris Bishop, Mrs. Adel Singleton and Mrs. Theresa Malone, all of Amarillo, Mrs. Lucy Boyd and Mrs. Marcella Phillips of Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Mary Lee of Duran, N.M., and Mrs. Evelyn Touchstone of McCall Creek, Miss.; 34 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

guests of Jim and Kay Riley. Teresa and Kay graciously share the 4th of July for their birthdays, and the families get together every year to celebrate. Dave and Jessie Coronado contributed an authentic and delicious Mexican dinner to the festivities, inviting around 11 neighborhood couples. The Riley family and the Kuntz family spent a few days in Raton, New Mexico, with the adults taking in the horse races and the youngsters swimming. Mrs. Kuntz's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Barnes, came in from Steamboat, Colorado, to visit and brought some trout for supper. They also brought several pieces of heirloom furniture to Mrs. Kuntz and to Kay. Somehow in the midst of all the activity at the Riley home, Kay has found the time to begin redecorating and is anxiously making plans to restore these treasured pieces and include them in her decorating scheme.

"OH, MY ACHING..." "I hurt all over," and a few other choice phrases preceded the cry to, "Break out the liniment." These appeals rang out in quite a few homes following an unscheduled (unscheduled on the parents' part, that is), baseball game recently. Parents, who had fully intended to be spectators only, became players and lost by a score of twenty-three to twenty-two and one-half to their third and fourth grade daughters. Apparently, the score-keeper(s) weren't any more adept than the umpire(s). It is fact that Tracy Gillis hit a grand slam for the girls, and fact that John Shank was immediately blacklisted after hitting a round-tripper for the parents. Never again. George Schmidt and Kenneth Drost are excellent and patient coaches for this team.

WHILE BRETT POLVADORE was being properly spoiled by his grandmother, Mrs. Letha Patterson, Kenneth and Laquita and daughter, Teresa, spent a few days in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The Polvadore family was joined by Bill and Helen Piehls and their daughter, Puff. The group stayed at Bishops Lodge, which has supervised recreational facilities for the youngsters. While Teresa and Puff went on trail rides and swam, the grownups shopped and enjoyed all the attractions Santa Fe has to offer. The lodge sponsored a "Swimkhana Afternoon", and contests held covering various activities and games. Teresa gleefully garnered five ribbons throughout the afternoon of games and swimming.

That's all, folks. Call 352-6053 with your news.

HEAR A MIRACLE IN THE NOW

A Personal Word From Oral Roberts About Betty Baxter

The Betty Baxter Story is the greatest story I have ever heard. It is a drama of deliverance in our time ranking with the greatest miracles of the Bible. That a young girl, hopelessly crippled and deformed as the woman Jesus healed in Luke 13:10-13, could have the faith to believe Jesus would heal her, is a challenge to every person who has ever felt the awful power of sickness and disease. Jesus appeared to Betty Baxter, talked with her, laid His nail-scarred hands on her twisted, matted spine and in a moment's time, straightened her bent body and made her whole. It is a true story, occurring in Fairmont, Minnesota, in 1941.

Palisades Palaver Vandals Wreck Property at Tanglewood Club

By VICKI HOOKER

DID ANYONE NOTICE the lovely picture and write-up of Gail Dudley's upcoming marriage in The Canyon Sunday News about two weeks ago? Gail will undoubtedly be a beautiful bride, and we wish her and her fiancé all the happiness in the world. The date of the wedding is set for August 7 in the Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo.

THE LUCKY MAN, according to the article in the paper, is Rodney Lee Elliott of Amarillo. I haven't talked to Gail to find out where they plan to live, etc., but I promise I will, and when I do, you all will be the first to know. Anyway, Gail, we are very happy for you. Best of everything to you!

SPEAKING OF WEDDINGS, I had mentioned in a previous column that Ann Johnson had asked permission to use our Washington Park for hers. But Wanda, her Mother, clued me in on the fact that Ann will be married in Memorial Park on Washington, Street in Amarillo! Sorry 'bout that, Ann! Would whoever has asked permission to use the park for a wedding please call me so we can get things straight?

LEO FORREST OVER in Tanglewood was right when he suggested we find a "local" Fire Chief besides our "travelling" Chief, Lum Edwards! He and Lena just returned from another trip! They think since they got that new van they can't stay at home!

WHILE THEY WERE gone this time for 10 days they saw a lot of countryside, but according to Lena, their main objective was to see their five-month-old great grandson, Chad. First stop was Cody, Wyoming, where the Edwards met their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller and their daughter Minetta and boyfriend Dale. Little Chad's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Butch Walther met them there also. Despite the fact that it snowed the entire time they were there, they still got to see Yellowstone National Park and Old Faithful.

FROM THERE THEY travelled to Mr. and Mrs. Walter's home in Grape Falls, Montana, for one of those good old-fashioned family visits, which are usually the highlight of any trip. On their way home they visited Glacier National Park, and enjoyed the scenery in Colorado and New Mexico.

WHILE TRAVELLING, LENA said they only ate out one time, and after cooking all that time in such close quarters, she said she was mighty glad to be home! And we're glad you're back, too, Lena!

RAN INTO BEVERLY Norman the other day in the Cloth World. She was getting some burlap to make some more of those dainty little flowers. If you've never seen any of Beverly's creations, you've missed something. She is a very talented lady. For those of you who attended the Home Demonstration Club Meeting at her house when we made sand candles, you'll recall that she had no side-walks or porches. Well, they finally had them poured so she wouldn't get in the mud while watering her outside plants. Now, however, she says she gets in the mud trying to get to her sidewalk! That's par for ya!

SHE AND TAYLOR just returned from a sight-seeing trip in Colorado. They took a niece and nephew from up north to Durango and Silverton and across the Royal Gorge. Beverly said it got pretty scary while crossing the bridge because they met another camping rig which must have been fairly large. The two campers mirrors were touching in the center of the bridge and their outside mirrors were touching the railing. Whew! But they made it home safely after having a very enjoyable trip. Now they are planning to return to Colorado in August, only this time to rock hunt! And I'm sure that no matter how many they bring back, Beverly will have something very original planned for them!

AS THE PISTOLS fired, three of our young men were off and running last weekend, and all three made the news for their achievements in motorcycling! Congratulations to Joe Moss, Jamie Walker and Randy Carthel for their showings in Umbarger and at the Speed Bowl.

SUNDAY WAS A busy day for Jamie. Racing first at Greenbelt Lake, he won a trophy for fourth place in 100 moto-cross. Then later that night at the Speed Bowl he won a second place trophy in the 100 scrambles. Also at the Speed Bowl, Joe Moss recovered from a fall to win first in the 125 scrambles.

RANDY TOOK FIRST in the 250 Moto-Cross main event at the Speed Bowl and also at Umbarger. But evidently he's going to have to really hustle if he's going to keep up with girl friend Mara Campbell, because she also came in first in Umbarger in the Powder Puff Derby riding a 250 machine!

WE ARE HAPPY to have Liz Timmons back home after her weekend stay in the hospital. She was having some inner ear trouble which was causing dizziness. But she's doing fine now and we hope she continues to do so.

LAKE TENKILLER IN Oklahoma was the site for Mildred Turner's family reunion over the July 4th holiday weekend. Garland and Mildred, along with their daughters and son-in-laws, Judy and Gene Webb and Carolyn and Dan Bailey and their families helped make up the 38-member gathering. According to Judy this was a smaller group than those in the past. Aside from the fact that it rained every day except the last day of the reunion, everyone enjoyed the outing, and they were thankful for cool weather.

THE SUN FINALLY peeped out the last day of the reunion and those who were still there boated and skied. Fishing was good, and the men caught several crappie and bass. All-in-all it was a very enjoyable three-day weekend for the Turners, the Webbs, and the Baileys, and we're glad to have them home again.

NEXT WEEK WE'LL try to introduce the Poindexters and the Griffins. The Griffins bought Jack and Lene Parker's house. Also there will be some exciting Board Meeting news! So see ya next week!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY to our beloved aunt and neighbor,

Arline Hooker, whose happy?? day will be Saturday, July 15.

Lake Tanglewood News

EACH WEEK NEWS about the Lake Tanglewood Community Church is reported first because most readers consider their place of worship the most important place they go all week. And each week we try to report the progress the Church is making as far as new members and new equipment is concerned.

LAST WEEKEND SOME pervers attempted to halt the progress of the Church by attempting to destroy its physical make-up, but he failed. One cannot destroy the spirituality of a church or of its members simply by tossing a few hymnals in the pool.

MRS. MARY MORRIS came to the clubhouse, last Sunday morning presently being used for Church services, to make Coffee for the fellowship hour. She was shocked to find that all three doors to the clubhouse were open and that chairs, hymnals, artificial flowers and rocks had been dunked in the pool. And most of the light bulbs were shattered all over the floor. She and others got busy and cleaned up the mess in time for services at nine, which were held inside. Special music was provided by the youth choir and all enjoyed it very much.

NO ONE KNOWS who is responsible for that tragedy which took place last Saturday night. But rest assured that whoever it will receive just punishment, even though human error may have allowed this vandal to slip away!

DAN AND JULIA Manning are home from a recent cruise. They rode the Delta Queen up the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers from New Orleans to Cincinnati and said they really had a great time. Julia says that the Delta Queen is the "only overnight passenger paddle-wheeler steamboat" in use today on U.S. Waters. (what a mouthful!) After returning from their Mark Twain type adventure, they entertained a very welcomed guest in their home. She was Mrs. E.J. Maczko, Dan's sister, from San Diego.

FAMILY REUNIONS ARE always such a pleasure to attend. One can always return home assured that he's not getting any older-only the children are. Well, we'll see what B.A. and Texana Wulman have to say on the subject when they return from their family reunion in Santa Barbara, California, with their two grandchildren, Bo and Melissa.

YOU REMEMBER READ-

ING sometime back that Jack and Alma Anderson's daughter and son-in-law, Judy and Jim Corbin and their three children were going to borrow the Anderson's motor home and take a trip? Well, they have returned after taking a three-week, 3,500-mile tour of the West! The highlight of the trip was Disneyland, enjoyed as much by Judy and Jim as by the children!

WHILE SOME TRAVEL-LED others stayed home over the 4th and entertained guests. Jerry and Monte Trice entertained daughter and son-in-law Ann and James Bailiff and their son Howard. Laura and Windy Blum, nieces of Irl and Arnette Brown, are visiting from California, and the Marmadukes (Madge and Sam) have company from Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schneider. Hope all of you are enjoying your stay on the lake, and we know that with such lovely hosts and hostesses entertaining you, you are.

SHAMROCK, THE GOOD luck town, has as one of its guests this week Debbie Smith, daughter of Gee and Jane Smith. Debbie is visiting her grandmother here. Hope she has a nice boy!

TUNE IN NEXT week for the latest developments of the Precinct 1 Volunteer Fire Department! It's really a good group of fireballs! (Yuk!)

Sherman Acres News Neighbors Sightsee and Visit

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

GREETINGS AGAIN FROM the Sherman Acres Area. We are back in our usual place (maybe at a little slower pace) and will try to catch up on the happenings out here. We have missed some of the activities and trips and parties already. If you have been some place or had guests or a party please call me at 352-2951 and we'll surely get it in our neighborhood column.

IN JUNE THE Jack Nance family was in Ada, Oklahoma, visiting with friends and relatives. Nina remained there for a longer visit, then came home by plane bringing a friend with her as a guest in their home.

MR. AND MRS. James Anderson and children vacationed in the Colorado Springs area recently. They report a real good time touring the vicinity and seeing all the famous spots there. All the Anderson children are enrolled in swimming classes at the Amarillo Aquatic Club. Kent and Batina are very happy about being Junior Aquatics. Congratulations to both of you.

MR. AND MRS. James Brashers and children were in Wellington recently to attend the Clement family reunion. Charlene and the girls were back there for the funeral of her aunt.

A VERY HAPPY belated birthday wish to Ross Glenn, Tom Allen, Kristen McDowell, Jim Wilhite, Beverly Allen and Terry Harris. We missed your special day at the right time, but wish you much happiness for the coming year.

MR. AND MRS. Pat Patterson have moved their business, Lubbock Ready Built Homes from Amarillo to the corner of Nena Street and the expressway. They are the developers of Sherman Acres and have been in the house building and moving business for a number of years. The Pattersons live in Amarillo now, but spend much of their time there.

MISS SAUNDRA DAVIS of Canadian is visiting this week with her cousins, Carla, Lisa, Cynthia and James Brashears.

REBA GRIFFIN HAD as a guest this week Rita Hopkins from Amarillo.

MR. AND MRS. R.A. Starke and children Donna, Clay and Sheila were in the Fort Worth area last week. They did some visiting and toured the Fort Worth Zoo and spent a day at Six Flags. They surely had a cool pleasant week for it.

VISITING IN THE Ellis Hanes home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gibson and children Heath and Heather who are now living in Canyon.

THIS PAST WEEKEND Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Newman and girls Quinell and Lani were in Levelland to attend the Palmer family reunion. They visited with many family members and were especially happy to see JoEll's brother and family from Dallas.

WHILE READING MARGO'S vacation account in the Sunday News, I couldn't help but chuckle, having recently returned from our family vacation. We went to Dearborn, Michigan where we toured the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, the Dearborn Museum and toured the Rouge assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company. We did a lot of sight seeing and some visiting on the way, stopping at Lake Texoma, Little Rock, St. Louis, Indianapolis and Windsor, Ontario Canada. Coming back we stopped in Chicago and Milan, Illinois, Des Moines, Newton, Kansas and Oklahoma City. The country and farms are so very pretty but the cities just aren't for us. The dusty drive-way in the weedy front yard here at home surely is a welcome sight.

MR. AND MRS. Murray Leith celebrated their wedding anniversary Sunday, July 9. We know it was a very happy occasion and congratulations to you.

THANKS FOR THE calls I received this week and do keep calling your news to me. I appreciate it so much. Mary Jo

Umbarger News

Family Teaching Stressed By Alamo Principal

By SUSAN DOLLE

"WE WERE NEVER there" was an observation about teenagers made by Monsignor Leroy T. Matthesen, principal of Alamo Catholic High School in Amarillo at a CCD meeting held last Thursday at St. Mary's in Umbarger.

FATHER MATTHESEN TOLD the teachers and parents present that teenagers today have been authentic and genuine and have forced older people away from rote and being tradition-bound. He said teenagers are no different from older people now in rejecting authority.

WORKING WITH TEENAGERS requires patience, sympathy and understanding. The principal also said that in religious teaching there is a definite shift back to information rather than free discussion. He said that in religious formation, there is no kind of education that can beat family teaching.

FATHER MATTHESEN AIDED the group in choosing material for the coming year for elementary and high school students.

MRS. A.C. Evers received word Monday that her brother John (Bud) Hess had died. He was fifty-four. He resided in Derby, Kan. Attending the funeral held yesterday afternoon was Carolyn Evers and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wieck of Umbarger.

MR. AND MRS. John Wieck and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ehly are in Victoria this week attending the convention of Catholic Life Insurance Union. As officers, they represent Branch #52 of Umbarger. Over 250 delegates from the state of Texas are expected; home office for the insurance union is in San Antonio.

MRS. HENRY BRACHT and Mrs. Jack Brandt on a recent trip visited Edward Simons in Burk Burnett, Texas; August, Fred, John and Fronin Simons in Wichita Falls; Laura Berend in the nursing home at Archer City; and Ed Berend in Windthorst. Mrs. Bracht also enjoyed seeing the church on top of the hill in Windthorst.

OTHER SUMMER TRAVELERS have been the Ron Haschkes and two boys who camped in the mountains near Santa Fe for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer and Rita Meyer who fished at Ute Lake and Clarence Beckman who reported a greater catch than the Meyers. MONSIGNOR MATTHEW F. Schafle, pastor of St. Mary's in St. Paul, Minn. this week for the national convention of the deaf. He will return this week to prepare for a month-long trip to Canada. Father Jerome Haines will replace Father Schafle during his absence.

PISTOLS AND PETTICOATS Square Dancing Club will award two tickets to TEXAS as a door prize this Sunday evening when the club holds its regular dance in the parish hall. Herrick Allen will be the caller for the evening.

MEMBERS OF THE Catholic Youth Organization spent an evening at Wonderland park Saturday followed by pizza, cokes and singing at Shakey's on Interstate 40. Sponsors for the event were Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Lindemann.

WTSU To Hear Sound of Music

The sound of music will fill the West Texas State University campus when more than 1,100 young musicians gather Sunday for the 12-day West Texas Instrumental Music Camp.

Now in its 20th year, the camp has had a record of continuous growth. Last year, after reaching a peak of 1,100 applications, camp officials placed the enrollment ceiling at that number.

This year, 1,300 applications were received, said Dr. George Umberson, camp director and WTSU music department head.

Of those, he said, 1,100 band students and 42 string students were accepted.

Attending the camp, which runs through July 28, will be junior and senior high school students from nearly 100 towns in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arizona and Missouri.

Heading the list of about 50 faculty and staff members will be Harry Began of the University of Illinois, marching band clinic director William F. Swor of Louisiana State University, orchestra director Milan Svambura of El Paso and baton twirling director Colleen Ewing of Downey, Calif.

The camp will feature 10 bands and two orchestras and will offer private lessons, section instruction and classes in music appreciation, theory, baton twirling and drum majoring, ensembles and other subjects.

Recreation will be provided in WTSU's multi-million dollar Activities Center, containing such facilities as a 50-meter swimming pool, bowling lanes, handball and paddleball courts and tennis courts.

A band director's workshop will be held in conjunction with the camp. Conducting the workshop, which may be taken for two hours of graduate credit, will be Began.

Cadet Carter Attends Camp At Ft. Riley

Cadet Hoyes A. Carter, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. N.O. Carter, 1917 10th Ave., is receiving six weeks of practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps Advanced Summer Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan. from June 10-July 21.

Cadet Carter, who is scheduled to receive a B.S. degree in 1973 from West Texas State University is one of more than 10,000 students attending Army ROTC training at six installations in the U.S.

Joy Williams To Brownwood

Standout Canyon High School guard Joy Williams will compete Saturday night in the Texas Girls' Association All-Star game in Brownwood.

She will play on the north squad, which will be coached by her high school coach, Bob Snyder.

Thirty-two girls from across the state will be participating in the All-Star game.

Crowley Team Places 1st

The Crowley Express Team from Burleson, a small community south of Fort Worth, walked off with $900 and a Traveling Saddlebags Trophy Saturday night after taking 11 straight wins to become the world champion pony express race team.

Second place winner with nine wins and two losses was the Durant (Okla.) Relay team, which won a cash prize of $560.

Third place winner was the Johnston County Pony Express of Tishomingo, Okla., which compiled an eight win, three loss record during the two-day, 66-race event. A purse of $340 was awarded to the third place team.

The races, sponsored by the Randall County Sheriff's Posse, are an annual event and are staged during Canyon Days.

New Look Coming in Signs

There's a new look in highway signs and although they are not as revolutionary as the mini-skirt, Texas Highway Department engineers hope they will be as eye-catching.

In many cases, symbols, shapes and colors are substituted for words. The department hopes this will give the message to motorists at a glance and remove language barriers.

Jim Moss, traffic engineer with the department in Amarillo, said Canyon area motorists will probably have plenty of time to get used to the new signs and signals.

He said the new signs will be phased in as existing signs become old or lose their usefulness.

In fact, Moss doesn't expect the new signs to be completely phased in until 1977. Pavement markings may not be phased in until 1977.

The new symbol signs and pavement markings adopted by the Texas Highway Commission are from the revised "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" released by the Federal Highway Administration.

The new prohibitive signs are probably the most important, highway department spokesman said. These signs all have a red circle with a slash cutting diagonally through the center which means "DO NOT" or "NO." The symbol inside the circle shows what is prohibited.

The yellow diamond-shaped signs still stand for a warning, but some of the symbols showing hazards are new. In addition, most warning signs continue to have a word message, but the message is located under the sign on a plaque.

For example: The word message "MERGING TRAFFIC," is replaced by a black arrow being joined by a smaller black line. A plaque under the sign will have the word "MERGE." It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to which stream carries the merging traffic.

School signs are shaped like a schoolhouse, containing the silhouettes of two children on a yellow background. Color is a key in the new system. Red indicates stop or prohibition; green shows movement permitted or gives directional guidance; blue signifies motorist services; yellow indicates general warning; and black on white is used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the Manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings. The shapes of the new signs are important. Diamond shaped signs signify warning; rectangular signs with longer vertical dimensions provide traffic regulation; rectangular signs with longer horizontal dimensions contain guidance information. An octagon always means stop and an inverted triangle means yield.

In addition to the new signs, there are major adjustments in the use of color lines for pavement markings.

Yellow lines will be the only color used for centerline markings on two-way roads and white will remain on multiple-lane highways—for separating traffic flows in the same direction.

A broken yellow centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is allowed for traffic in that lane. Double solid yellow lines will denote areas where no passing is permitted by traffic traveling in either direction. Similarly, double yellow lines will mark the center line of multilane divided highways.

Man Charged With Bigamy

Bigamy charges were filed last week on a 21-year-old Florida man in Randall County.

Maynard David Selvog of Dundin, Fla., was arraigned Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson who set bond at $1,500. Selvog was arrested by Randall County deputies Saturday.

Randall County Assistant Dist. Atty. Robert McClendon said Selvog is charged with marrying an Amarillo woman on July 1 without having received a divorce for a previous marriage on Feb. 18 in Dallas.

The July marriage took place in Randall County.

Family Enjoys Vacations In Home On Wheels

When the Davis family of seven go camping or visiting, their vacation home goes with them. As a matter of fact, the vacation home is a new self-contained motor home that represents the ultimate in convenience and attractiveness for travelling.

The "pilot" of this home on wheels is Dr. James B. Davis, Jr., head of the accounting department at West Texas University. His "co-pilot" is wife Donna, who looks after the happy brood and also makes use of her master's degree in nursing by teaching part time at Amarillo College. Home port is their comfortable brick home at 1000 4th Ave.

A merry crew it is, and why not? While Jim maneuvers the highways, Donna may slip a casserole into the oven and put Dustin, 2, down for a nap. Terry, 10, LaMoyné, 13, Louise, 14 and Lynne 16, may take each other on at a game of risk or pitch. No fretting to stop and ease cramped bodies or get soft drinks—it is all there at an arm's reach.

Sound ideal? The Davises think it nearly so. But Donna readily tells you their dream came true because they were willing to forego other luxury items in their budget. "It doesn't save money when travelling—it's just a different way of having fun. It is really the cost of a small home invested in rolling stock," she says.

Camping was one of their favorite family pastimes long before they acquired the motor home. "But we just outgrew our old camper trailer," Mrs. Davis observed. The entire family enjoys the freedom and beauty of natural surroundings.

But they also find the camper ideal for frequent visits to friends and relatives who live at some distance. Since April when they acquired the motor home, they have taken outings to Austin, Tres Ritos and Canton Lake in Oklahoma.

The Davises find their motor home is a conversation piece that often "breaks the ice" and makes it possible to meet other campers at parks and recreation areas. "Campers like to compare experiences," Mrs. Davis commented, "and we have made many pleasant acquaintances in this way."

You might say their sophisticated camper does everything but cook the meals. It measures 8 by 20 feet, sleeps eight people, keeps them cool or warm, has refrigerator, stove with oven, shiny stainless steel sink, and bath facilities with hot and cold water. The stove operates on propane gas, but most of the other conveniences can be operated with both propane gas or electricity, which they use where "plug-in" facilities are available.

Incidentally, their camping vehicle drinks gasoline with voracious appetite. "We look for self-service, low-grade gasoline pumps," says Donna, "and we wipe our own windshields and check oil. However, it is important also not let the tank drop low when one is travelling in sparsely settled areas."

The attractive interior combines walnut-finished panelling with bright orange upholstered seats and cushions for dinette and convertible couches, along with lettuce-green formica tops for tables and counters.

"The one house rule we have is that everyone must pick up his clothing or other articles and put them away," Donna said. Storage space was stretched by putting shelves in a small closet and assigning a shelf with large plastic box to each member of the family. Blankets, towels and such can be neatly stored overhead. The kitchen shelves are adequate for the streamlined cooking they do while on the road.

Most of the time they pull over to a level spot beside the road or wait until they have stopped for the night to prepare meals. The motion of the vehicle tends to make cooking a rather unsteady venture. But once in a while Donna prepares a casserole when their driving day stretches out.

One of their favorites is a seafood casserole, made as follows:

Seafood Casserole
1 can of shrimp
1 can of tuna fish
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 cup chopped celery
1 med. chopped onion
1 c Mayonnaise or salad dressing
Top with buttered crumbs and bake at 350° for 30 min.
Donna keeps the camper provisioned with staples and all housekeeping essentials so they are ready to go on a trip without tiring preparations. She brings a three-day supply of food, including many mixes and instant foods and beverages.

Like most youngsters, the Davis children like hamburgers or hotdogs cooked outdoors best of all. And in camping areas, they keep a campfire going just for the pure pleasure of it.

"The moment we stop, the first thing Dad says is 'hunt for wood,'" volunteered LaMoyné. Another "must" for their campsites is that there must be a fresh stream or lake nearby. Wading and stone-stepping along mountain streams provide added fun, and the boys like to fish as well. They also water ski whenever possible. Hiking, keeping an eye out for some unexpected wild creature, swapping yarns with fellow campers—these are ways they relax.

With a home on wheels, one can always look forward to a "next" trip. For the Davises that will be a three-week jaunt through the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas sometime this summer. And before their oldest daughter is out of high school, they would like to tour the Eastern United States.

Dowlen Re-examines Death Penalty Rule

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen returned from a Houston meeting with attorneys from around the state last week-end with the distinct impression that the death penalty will be retained as punishment in criminal cases.

Dowlen, who was in Houston as a member of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association legislative committee, said after discussion of the recent Supreme Court ruling on the death penalty with his colleagues, he believes the death penalty will stay on the books for use only in a few cases.

Riffling through a copy of the 160-page Supreme Court decision on the matter as he spoke, Dowlen said that of the five justices who voted to turn down the death penalty in cases before the Court only two said the death penalty was cruel and unusual punishment.

"The other three equivocated so much it's really hard to tell what they said," Dowlen said. "The other members of the court said they don't hold the death penalty to be cruel and unusual punishment."

Dowlen said a major objection voiced in the decisions by the justices was on the arbitrary manner in which the death penalty is meted out by juries.

"They said it is arbitrary for one man to get the death penalty for an offense and for another man to get a prison term for the same offense," Dowlen said. Dowlen foresees the death penalty used for only a few crimes, crimes such as the malicious killing of a police officer or for skyjacking.

He said he encountered three schools of thought in Houston on punishment in lieu of the death sentence.

One school says the penalty will be allowed in only a few cases and in those cases it will be a mandatory punishment.

The second school says there is a need for a life sentence which has no opportunity for parole both in lieu of the death penalty and even with the penalty.

The third school of thought says a life sentence should be established which includes a mandatory serving time in the penitentiary of 30 calendar years.

Ready For Camping

The Dr. James B. Davis Jr. family of Canyon have found traveling and camping in their new self-propelled camper a new and fun experience. They've taken only a few trips in it so far, but plan a longer trip this summer. The Davis children enjoy the outings, too. The five, Dustin, 2, Terry, 10, LaMoyné, 13, Louise, 14, and Lynne, 16, stand in the doorway of their camper.

Nurse Grant Given WTSU

West Texas State University's nursing program received a Health Education and Welfare grant totalling $37,433 this week in funds for scholarships and student loans, for nursing students the office of Congressman Bob Price announced.

The grant includes $16,978 for loans and $20,455 for scholarships, the congressman's office reported.

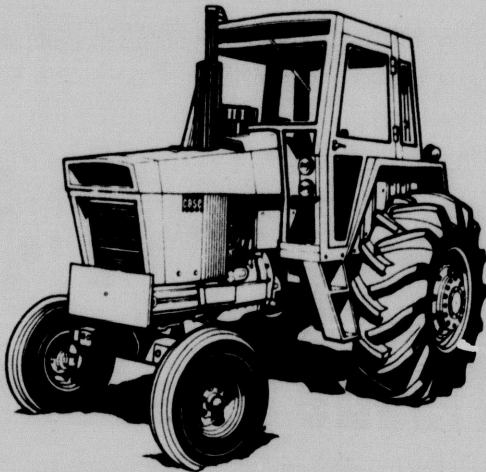

"The funds are especially for nursing funds," Cliff Baker, head of student financial aids at the university, declared.

"One good thing about nursing student loans is that there is a percentage of loan forgiveness for those who graduate and become practicing nurses," Baker went on.

He said eligibility will be determined in much the same way as eligibility for national defense loans in the past.

He also stated that scholarships will be given on the basis of financial need, academic ability and character.

Civil Rights Office To Eye WT Women Discrimination

Dr. Waldo Wedel, chief archeologist for the Smithsonian Institution, talks about the Indians who may have roamed the Plains 10,000 years ago. Wedel is spending the summer in Canyon to study his theory.

Early Indian Presence Sought by Smithsonian

By BEN KECK

In the upper reaches of the Palo Duro Canyon, Dr. Waldo Wedel, chief archeologist for the Smithsonian Institution, digs through dirt and rock in search of a trash dump that will hopefully reveal the lifestyle of Indians roaming the Panhandle 10,000 years ago.

Later, in a rented house in Canyon, his large frame slumped in a folding patio chair and his huge hands holding a cold drink, Dr. Wedel reflects on his work.

"You see, the white man begins his history of the Great Plains with the coming of Coronado. Until now, there has been nothing like what we are trying to prove in the annals of Plains history," he said.

What he is trying to prove is that Indians were living on the Plains as far back as 10,000 years ago.

"We have a good line on Indians here about 1300 to 1400 A.D.," he said. "If we can get a sequence before that, I would guess that it would take us back several thousands of years.

"We know, for example, there were several cultures of Indians here, in several periods of time. And, they had the same problems with climatic conditions that we have in this area today. We've found several levels of ruins, each covered by wind-blown dust and this means the Indians here thousands of years ago were plagued by drought, and dust, and inadequate rainfall."

Dr. Wedel said the white man had to learn the hard way about weather problems on the plains, simply because "he didn't realize people were here before him."

"Today," he said, "the white man calls on Uncle Sam to bail him out of hardships due to climate, but all the Indian could do was move."

Wedel joined the Smithsonian in 1936, and over the years has worked in the field most of those summers.

"I'm still curious about some things I was curious about 25 years ago," he said. "I guess I learned a lot, too."

Learning a lot often means developing philosophical views, and Wedel has a few opinions concerning archeological and historical theories.

"In future generations, say 5,000 years from now, there will be no archeology," he said. "Records are being kept today and archeology is being destroyed. Everytime someone digs up a lot to build a house, or everytime someone paves a road, he tears up a lot of archeological history."

And, to an extent, he believes history—"as it is taught in schools"—is misleading.

"We usually start American history with the Pilgrims in the East and the Spanish in the West," he said. "And then we emphasize things the English did. We generally ignore the Spanish

Alleged discrimination by West Texas State University against women will be investigated beginning Monday by a three-member team from the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas.

Miles Schulze, chief of the Contract Compliance Division of the office, said Tuesday the team will spend a week on the WTSU campus.

Investigation of the alleged discrimination was spurred when, last January, the Women's Equity Action League (WEAL) filed a complaint with the Office of Civil Rights concerning job discrimination against women at WTSU.

"That (alleged discrimination against women) is the reason they're coming," Schulze said.

In conjunction with the investigation, the team will also examine the university's academic and non-academic staff to ensure compliance with civil rights laws which say WTSU cannot discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, national origin or sex.

"It was about time for an annual review, anyway," Schulze said.

Team members visiting WTSU will be Richard Kurtz, Mary Arkadie and Gloria Lynch.

The women's discrimination controversy arose at WTSU last winter after The Canyon News printed a story concerning the numbers of men and women employed at WTSU and salaries paid members of each sex.

Paula Latimer, secretary of the Texas Division of WEAL, later wrote The Canyon News notifying the paper that a complaint had been filed with the civil rights office.

"The evidence of discrimination against women on the WT campus is so strong that the Women's Equity Action League is filing a complaint..." she told the News.

Mrs. Latimer also told the News at that time that the cost for non-compliance with federal discrimination guidelines would be a loss of government contracts.

The original News story, which ran on Jan. 23, indicated that men overwhelmingly outnumber women in numbers, pay and education at WTSU. Figures cited were provided by the school's administration.

The figures showed that 100 per cent of the general officers of administration and the academic deans at WTSU are men and 84.3 per cent of the officers of instruction are men.

The story said 46 per cent of the men on the university teaching staff have doctorate degrees and 16 per cent of the women have doctorates.

One woman, said the article, has a title of full professor and 44 men have that title. There are also 30 men who are full professors who make a salary higher than the one woman full professor.

Price Raps Demo Opponent

Aid Pledged to Towns

Congressman Bob Price said Saturday he has introduced two bills in the House which he thinks will help abate the migration from smaller towns in the nation to large cities.

Price, who was in Canyon for the Canyon Days celebration, told The Canyon News vast numbers of young people are moving from their small home towns to find employment in cities like Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Kansas City.

"How can we solve this," he asked rhetorically, "and answered his question: 'Through the profit motive.'"

One bill Price has promoted would provide a tax incentive for small businessmen to establish businesses in small towns.

"This would give him a tax write-off for locating in a small town, for equipment and for constructing a building," Price said.

A second bill would give the small businessman a tax break if he hired young and inexperienced local people.

U.S. Rep. Bob Price, in Canyon for Saturday's festivities, rides atop his car before stopping in Conner Park to greet the scores of people who enjoyed barbecue and the thrill of skydivers.

"This couldn't help but keep the kids here," he said. "They're going to get married, build a house, buy groceries and so on. They're going to need all the services of the town, and everyone in the city benefits."

Price took a swipe at his Democratic opponent in next fall's congressional election, Graham Purcell, accusing him of using a House committee for political purposes.

"He called a hearing of the agricultural subcommittee about beef to use as a springboard for his election," Price charged.

"The report that the committee adopted and reported to the House was so stupid that if I threw it down in front of a cattleman he'd laugh at me."

Price said there were numerous inaccuracies and discrepancies in the report.

"For one thing, they didn't even look at the import situation," Price said. "For another, everybody they called before the committee was a producer-and the committee hearing was called for the consumer to come and give his complaints. There was only one consumer that was called."

Price said he spent three days going over the final committee report and writing an addi-

City and Pioneer Move Closer To Gas Franchise Agreement

Canyon City Commissioners and Officials of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. reached tentative agreement Monday night on the resolution of a clause in the city charter which has been a stumbling block in negotiations for a new franchise for the gas company.

Pioneer's 20-year franchise with the city ran out Tuesday, but City Manager George Louder said no penalties are involved if the city and gas company reach a final franchise agreement in a reasonable time.

Pioneer has asked for another 20-year franchise in Canyon.

Bill Lampe, vice president and secretary of Pioneer, Jake Huber, director of rates and statistics for the company, and Ralph Marquis, head of the Canyon Pioneer office, appeared before commissioners to resolve a clause in the city charter which sets out the terms should the city ever decide to purchase Pioneer's Canyon system.

The clause states in effect the city has the right to purchase the gas system.

The Pioneer-city disagreement arose over the formula which would be used to determine if such determination was ever necessary how much Canyon should pay for the system.

The city proposed that the formula for purchase price would be original cost less book value plus 5 per cent. Pioneer proposed the formula be figured from reproduction cost less observed physical depreciation.

After an hour of haggling Monday, Commissioner Jim Christopher made his own proposal.

"How about this," he said, and read a clause he had jotted down: "Current reproduction cost less observed physical depreciation as arrived at by an engineer appraiser for the grantor and grantee. Said appraisers will determine fair value and submit it to an umpire to be selected by the grantor and grantee. The umpire shall make a fair value according to the appraisal report."

How to arrive at a fair value for the gas company's system was the haggling point during the meeting as Louder repeatedly rejected Pioneer's proposal.

Louder contended that the company's proposed formula was too dependent on the idea that a fair value could be determined.

Feedyard Sues Two Elevators

Mesa Petroleum Company has lodged an $18,347.56 damage suit against two local elevators in connection with purported purchase of grain alleged to have been stolen from Randall County Feedyard in the fall of 1970.

Randall County Feedyard is owned by Mesa Petroleum Company.

The suit is against Umbarger Coop Elevator and Consumer Fuel & Elevator Association of Canyon. It alleges that the two elevators in the fall of 1970 purchased without title grain stolen from Randall County Feedyard by Frankie O'Donald, Hubert Wiley and R.E. Hudgens.

The suit alleges that 516,140 pounds of grain was purchased by Umbarger Coop Elevator at a total price of $11,652.56 and that 75,000 was purchased by Consumers Fuel & Elevator at a price of $1,695.

Mesa seeks to recover the price of the grain plus $5,000 exemplary damages and 6 percent interest on the money involved over the time since the alleged purchases of grain were made by the defendants.

In the meantime, Frankie O'Donald drew 6 years in prison in connection with the grain thefts and Hubert Wiley a like term. Both cases are on appeal at the present time.

Hudgens was not tried.

County Warned That Fuel Will Be In Short Supply Soon

Randall County Commissioners opened gasoline and diesel fuel bids Monday and were warned by an Amarillo gasoline distributor that in five years diesel fuel will be so scarce "you'll be begging for bidders."

Due to a short meeting period, the commissioners opened their bids, looked them over and tabled choosing a distributor.

They discussed the bids long enough to hear Wayne Snider, an Amarillo distributor for Gulf Oil, tell them of the scarcity of diesel fuel.

"In five years, there won't be anybody here to bid," he said. "Consumption of diesel fuel is greater than what we're getting out of the ground. All the oil fields are running 100 per cent."

County commissioners also opened bids from several life insurance agencies for a cancer insurance policy for county employees.

The insurance will be offered county employees on a paycheck withdrawal system.

Lone Star Insurance, represented by Nelson Cash and Charles H. Fritch Jr., was given authority to contact county employees about the insurance, which would cost each employee $2.50 per month for individual coverage or $3.75 for family coverage.

Following the regularly scheduled commissioners' meeting, they sat as a board of equalization and prepared to hear as many as 61 citizens with tax problems.

Only three county property owners showed up.

The commissioners lowered the valuation of Western Beef of Amarillo from an original valuation of $828,000 to about $600,000 after Charles Hughes and Roy Johnson of the company appeared.

The valuation was based on seven grain elevators and one office building.

Also appearing before the board was Reuel Nash, who owns part of Palo Duro Shopping Center, and Clay Cooper.

Nash contended that the appraisal made by the county tax assessor-collector on his building was not equal to an appraisal made by the same office on a building which houses Cooper's Market, according to Mrs. Audrey Bruse, assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse said Nash's building was appraised at about $7 per square foot and Cooper's at about $4 per square foot.

County commissioners said they would physically inspect both buildings to make a fair determination of value.

One skydiver of a group which jumped over Conner Park Saturday as a part of Canyon Days celebration landed just shy of his target. The parachutist floated slowly to the ground in the slight breeze, thrilling young and old who were attending a barbecue at the park.

Grand Jury To Reconvene

The Randall County Grand Jury will convene Monday with a new panel of jurors.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said Monday's session will be spent primarily bringing the new jurors up-to-date on an investigation concerning charges made by former West Texas State University security chief Bobby Hudson.

He said Dan Self, state intelligence agent with the Department of Public Safety, will appear before the jury.

Self was one witness who appeared before the jury.

180 Lots Under Development

Building Prospects Are Bright

By TROY MARTIN

Prospects for new residential construction in Canyon are brightest in recent years, according to four developers with property now being made available as home sites.

Figures supplied by these four developers indicate 180 lots developed or under development for new home construction.

In the meantime building permits soared to $5,389,129 for the first half of 1972 but this includes $4,840,000 for new science and library buildings being constructed on the West Texas State University campus.

As of June 30, residential construction in Canyon came to $502,549 for the year so far and commercial construction and remodeling to $76,000. Over a similar period last year construction came to $678,810, according to E.A. Collie, city building inspector.

Collie is optimistic over building prospects for the remainder of the year. "I think things are beginning to pick up," he said Tuesday morning.

Hunsley Hills Developers have spent about $32,885 on street, water and sewer improvement to clear the way for home construction on some 45 lots situated between Village Drive and Canyon Creek Apartments in Hunsley Hills.

Arch Hunsley said homes will range in price from $22,500 to $29,500. He stated that 19 lots will be opened at first with more than 20 others available.

Builder in Hunsley Hills will be Henry Lemaster. Homes will be speculative and built to order.

Jack Taylor said 41 lots have been developed for residential dwellings in Pioneer Estates. Building is already under way there.

COVERING FUMBLE
Dean Mitch Jones

One tragedy of the aging process is that the "tongue" often outlasts the mind.

Some $62,000 has been spent on the newest Pioneer Estates project for improvements, according to city hall.

Aubrey Crossland said 20 lots are ready for home construction in Hidden Valley with 20 more being prepared through use of fill taken from excavation for the new science building on the WTSU campus.

Street improvement for the project came to $39,000.

Crossland said both speculative and made-to-order homes will be constructed in Hidden Valley. Three speculative houses are under way and five will be started within the next month and a half, he reported.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

At this writing it appeared that the standard bearer for the Democratic Party would be George McGovern.

This was good news for Republicans everywhere. Even high ranking Democrats held no hope that radical George could put it together in November.

Scoop Jackson on national television all but called McGovern a moron. "Nonsense," is the way Jackson, himself a candidate, described McGovern's platform.

It's going to be awful hard on Democratic candidates like Graham Purcell who is running against Republican Bob Price in the new 13th District.

Purcell has already said he would shun McGovern, not having anything to do with his campaign in Texas. The question is whether or not this will be enough.

From this point it looks like 1964 in reverse. If this is true a lot of Republicans are going to ride in on Nixon's coat tail this fall.

It's mighty hard for a candidate to go to congress to mount an effective campaign while having to apologize at every turn for the national party's candidate for President.

I am always appalled when I watch political conventions. The blatant unfairness of political figures in both parties is hard to reconcile with trusted leadership they purport to provide our country.

McGovern's position on the California delegation was exactly opposite the rule of proportionate representation which McGovern himself fathered.

It is odd indeed to see the author of proportionate representation winning the Democratic nomination when he polled less than 25 per cent of the vote in the party's primaries.

I also have been amazed at quota representation enforced upon delegations from various states. South Carolina was challenged because only 31 per cent of the state's delegates were women.

Guidelines laid down and apparently being enforced by the convention call for representation by sex, race and age.

But there is no consistency. Percentage representation by age is construed to mean the very young; by race, minority groups; and by sex, women.

This could become very confusing. With just as much legality the Baptists in this state could claim percentage representation on the Texas delegation as could Catholics, Methodists and members of the Church of Christ.

German-Americans are a minority group and could ask for their quota as could Irish, Poles and Italians ad infinitum.

Let's take a look at a few McGovern proposals which Scoop Jackson called "nonsense."

On Southeast Asia: McGovern says he'll get us out, unilaterally, completely, unconditionally, whether or not the North Vietnamese agree to return our prisoners of war.

McGovern said on national television that he would approach Hanoi and "beg" the communist government to let our prisoners go.

This the communists will never willingly do. Prisoners have been brutalized and the oriental North Vietnamese would lose face if they were liberated to tell their story to the world. Witness the fact that the Japanese burned many of our prisoners alive as they faced defeat at the close of World War II.

Attention! Randall County

Tri-Chem, Inc. Liquid Embroidery,

Instructor Joan Griffin

1421 Creekmere - 655-4317

What McGovern is really saying is that the people who have given their all for this country will be deserted to die in communist prison camps.

McGovern proposes a minimum income with federal "grants" for everyone from paupers to billionaires. Some expert with a fast pencil figures that this plan alone would call for $27 billion a year in new taxes.

McGovern would slash $32 billion off national defense but would spend a great deal of that amount in retraining and paying at 80 per cent of full salary the people thrown out of work by such a slash.

Most of McGovern's proposals are fuzzy in detail.

As his campaign unfolds (if he indeed wins the nomination), I will leave you to decide for yourself whether you agree with Scoop Jackson that most of these proposals are "nonsense."

Spanish explorers were men of tremendous ability. That's not to say they were nice, because I don't think they were. For example, Coronado, with what he went through, has earned my respect. But I don't know that I would like him one bit."

Another area of interest Wedel commented on was the Alibates National Monument area near Lake Meredith.

"Someone should twist the Park Service's arm to get that going," he said. "They have these priorities as to where their money goes and some administrator thinks other things come first. They have some people in the park service who would be well qualified to restore the flint quarry. But most of their park planners are chief clerk types. If they got the right man to get in there and build the place up, they would have something nice. Otherwise, well, the whole thing would be a washout."

Wedel and his wife Mildred, who is doing historical research, will remain in Canyon most of the summer, continually trying to authenticate the existence of mankind on a barren plain more than 10,000 years ago.

water and sewer improvement in Davis & Hooper Addition in southwest Canyon will open up 54 residential sites for homes ranging in price from $16,000 to $20,000.

All the houses there will be FHA and VA approved. Hooper said both made to order and speculative dwellings will be constructed there.

Phone Price

To Remain

No hike in telephone prices is seen in the near future for Canyon, even though the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has requested a hike in Amarillo.

Mike Patrick, who is in charge of the Canyon telephone office, said Tuesday the company's rate hike request will be limited only to Amarillo even though Amarillo and Canyon share what the phone company calls "extended area service."

Patrick warned, though, that Southwestern Bell officials constantly monitor the rate of return made by their various systems.

"In many cases where it's too low, we've gone to the city commissions to request a more reasonable rate," he said.

Spanish explorers were men of tremendous ability. That's not to say they were nice, because I don't think they were. For example, Coronado, with what he went through, has earned my respect. But I don't know that I would like him one bit."

Another area of interest Wedel commented on was the Alibates National Monument area near Lake Meredith.

"Someone should twist the Park Service's arm to get that going," he said. "They have these priorities as to where their money goes and some administrator thinks other things come first. They have some people in the park service who would be well qualified to restore the flint quarry. But most of their park planners are chief clerk types. If they got the right man to get in there and build the place up, they would have something nice. Otherwise, well, the whole thing would be a washout."

MRS. GLENNA WILSON, Canyon artist-writer, is back from a trip to California and a visit with golf-pro-writer Brad and his family.

Glenna mentioned that the trip was most enjoyable and I understand that she was commissioned to do two paintings while out there.

If you have missed meeting Glenna, you have missed one of Canyon's most charming personalities—so make a point to do so.

tion expressing his own opinion about the way the committee operated and its conclusions.

When told during the interview that Purcell had been quoted as saying he would "maintain a heroic silence" if George McGovern was named Democratic nominee for president, Price asked "how could he (Purcell) hope to be effective if he won't even support his candidate?"

Discussing the controversial Occupational Safety and Health Act, Price said he is co-sponsor of a bill which would exempt businesses with fewer than 25 employees from the restrictions in the act.

He said he has received the greatest amount of mail recently concerning the act.

"The act will create unemployment," he said. "The small businessman just can't comply."

Turning to the military, Price lashed out at proponents of amnesty for deserters and draft evaders who have left the United States to avoid military service during the Vietnam era.

"The boys who went to Canada should be treated under the military law for treason," Price said. "These people are traitors to their country."

Price said he believes an all-volunteer Army will not work.

"I think every able-bodied person should serve," he said. Price distinguished himself as a fighter pilot during the Korean Conflict.

Looking to the continued campaign for the 13th district seat, Price said opponent Purcell may have more seniority in the House, but that he knows little about the cattle industry and farming.

"I've been in agriculture all my life," Price said. "I went to school and got my degree in agriculture and then stayed in agriculture."

No Hike Seen

For Gas Rate

A natural gas rate hike which Pioneer Natural Gas Co. has said it will seek in Amarillo will have no effect on gas prices in Canyon, according to Ralph Mardis, head of the gas company here.

Mardis said Monday there are no plans in the foreseeable future for a gas rate hike request in the city.

"We do have, of course, a clause in our contract which says that if production costs increase, prices can be adjusted," he said.

Mardis said Pioneer furnishes gas to Amarillo customers from different wells than those used to service Canyon customers.

About three years ago, Pioneer requested and received a gas rate hike in Canyon and several other cities on the Panhandle pipeline.

At that time, Canyon City commissioners joined with councilmen from about 50 other area towns to decrease Pioneer's rate request.

Price said he feels Purcell will be a formidable opponent "and I've been running hard since January."

CANYON DAYS is over for another year, but it was most enjoyable—many, many Canyonites attended the parade and barbecue. Bright colors, candy kisses tossed to the crowd, pennies, horses, bands, dignitaries, and clowns were featured.

One sign seen at the parade and barbecue told of the Happy Days Picnic upcoming in August—everyone here is welcome to attend I am sure—check some of Mary Neal's columns for events and dates.

FREE PUPPIES-- SOON! My house, six, small variety-five white and one black. They are now ten days old. Don't worry I'll let you know!

HERE'S A PARTY PLEASER! Taste tested at a patio party this week is Mrs. Jack Hazelwood's Peanut Brittle Ice Cream!

Mary says you can just leave out the candy if you prefer a plain vanilla.

PEANUT BRITTLE ICE CREAM

Put in mixer, then beat til thick:

1/2 c. sugar

4 egg yolks

Pour in very slowly (or you will scramble the eggs)

2 c. scalded milk

Pour this mixture back into the pan and bring to a boil; then let cool. Pour mixture into blender (if you desire) and add:

1/4 tsp salt

2 tsp. vanilla

Blend for just a moment so mixture will be creamy

Pour into freezer and add:

2 c. whipping cream

1/2 lb. peanut brittle

Freeze and serve.

"It really is easy—and you don't really use every bowl in your kitchen," Mary notes.

Area Farmers Warned Of Disease

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has issued a news release which ends: "If you have sick pigs, suspect cholera first."

And, while on the subject of animal diseases, the Texas Animal Health Commission has advised revaccination of horses in an effort to prevent an outbreak of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis such as occurred in Texas last fall.

The latest hog cholera bulletin tells of 862 head of hogs infected in nine separate outbreaks in Dawson, Terry and Mitchell Counties on the South Plains.

Texas Animal Health officials at Amarillo said they have not had any reports of cholera in the High Plains area since an outbreak at Dumas the first of May.

"Randall County hasn't had an outbreak in the recent past," a TAHC spokesman said, "but we do advise hog farmers to watch for sickness."

The spokesman said the VEE

disease that affected horses across the state and in neighboring states last year may be under control.

"We have had a few cases of VEE downstate, in South Texas, recently," he said, "but it seems to be under control. Last year it was mandatory for horses to be vaccinated against VEE, but the serum only lasts a year. What we are doing is simply urging horse owners to revaccinate in hopes of preventing any further outbreak."

WTSU Instructor Pushes Course In Advertising Campaign

A poster displays a svelte blonde in a slinky evening dress and the caption: "Do you want to lose 10 pounds quick?"

In smaller type below is added: "Well, philosophy won't help, but try it anyway, you might be glad you did."

The advertisement was one of several that appeared recently on the West Texas State University campus.

The "product" being advertised is Ethics or Philosophy 204-1, being offered at 10:50 a.m. daily during the second session of summer school starting Monday (July 17).

The advertising campaign was the idea of Arthur Johnson, assistant professor of philosophy, to stimulate interest and enrollment in the subject.

One of his ads, a takeoff on a promotion for a popular deodorant, reads: "Who would tell you...?" And below a picture of a somewhat perplexed looking man the caption adds: "Philosophy 204-1... we want to clear the air."

Johnson said his advertising work has hardly been a labor of love.

"I have no respect for advertising methods at all," he said. "In fact, they are rather a negation of what I am trying to do, in a way, that is, to show what is enriching and worthwhile about the study of philosophy."

"Advertising almost always appeals to the lowest intellectual level-to the common, the mundane, even the devious."

He attributed the unpopularity of philosophy not to a lack of interest but to a lack of knowledge of the subject.

"Many people don't even know what philosophy is. It is literally an unknown quantity, not taught in most high schools," he said.

"Students can readily understand the importance of science, psychology or history, but philosophy holds for them an aura of the otherworldly, the incomprehensible realm of the ivory tower."

Johnson said he felt the Ethics course would be particularly interesting to all in philosophy itself.

"Cataclysmic events, such as the Vietnam war, scientific advances, the decline of the family, lack of credibility in government and violence on the streets and the screen, all have forced every individual to consider the philosophical and ethical implications of modern life," he said.

"If people knew and understood the value of the study of philosophy, it would surely sell itself," he added.

Price sought out the source of the voice and found a parade organizer trying to persuade a tearful and fearful five- or six-year-old boy to join the parade procession.

Apparently, the boy had decorated his bicycle in anticipation of riding in the parade, but had second thoughts when he saw the crowd.

Price talked to the child, and together with a Khiva clown, persuaded the youngster to join the other Canyon youths who rode down 4th Ave.

Presbyterians Vote To Begin Church Construction

BY JUNE DAYEN

The moment of decision in the process of building a new church came last Sunday evening for members of the First Presbyterian congregation when they gave the go-ahead by voice vote to erect a $319,134 structure in the city.

The proposed structure will consist of sanctuary, narthex, Christian education classrooms, and fellowship hall covering about 15,000 square feet. Its location is on the block bounded by 10th Ave. on the north, 9th Ave. on the south, 18th St. on the west, and 19th St. on the east.

The decision of the congregational meeting, moderated by the Rev. Baldwin Stribling, is subject to approval by the Palo Duro Union Presbytery and also acceptance of requests for loans from both private sources and the Board of National Missions. According to Mrs. Ples Harper, promotion chairman, no obstacles are anticipated as previous guidelines have been complied with. About half of the needed funds have already been secured in cash and pledges.

As soon as action is officially sanctioned, the trustees will proceed to exercise their option to buy Block 16 from the Foster Estate Trust. The price of the land, located on the perimeter of choice residential sites, was given as $20,000.

The Amarillo architectural firm of Earl Parge and Robert Hucker will also be contacted to draw up working plans and obtain bids for construction. The firm has designed and supervised building of several structures in Canyon, including the Lutheran Church, West Texas cafeteria, and several dormitories at WTSU.

Ground breaking is anticipated for next December or January, and completion of the construction is expected in about one year, according to James Irwin, chairman of the executive building committee.

The proposed church will feature sanctuary with seating arrangement of both choir and congregation on three sides with aisles converging diagonally on a worship center illuminated by recessed background and overhead lighting. There will be a beamed ceiling and stained glass panels on each side toward the back. The Christian education building will also contain administrative rooms and multi-purpose classrooms.

The Sunday evening action climaxed a year and a half of planning and study with the entire congregation involved in committee work. The recommendations of the work-study committees were then translated by the architects into schematic drawings and a model.

The master plan's administrative wing estimated at a cost of $50,000 as well as some items of furniture and parking lot paving were deleted from the pre-served building plans to be reserved for future projects.

The present building of the First Presbyterian Church, built in 1926, made news earlier this year when plaster fell from the ceiling on worshippers during Sunday service.

Programs Feature Vincent Price

Arch-villain-art-collector Vincent Price headlines six educational entertainment programs scheduled during the next school year at West Texas State University.

Dr. John Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts at WTSU, said Price will join five other groups and individuals who will come to the WTSU campus during the fall and spring semesters sponsored by the Faculty Special Program Series.

Three programs are scheduled for the fall term and three for the spring.

Dejan's Olympia Brass Band, one of New Orleans marching bands, will appear in an unusual strolling and standing concert on the campus Sept. 14.

Green said the band, which specializes in music for all occasions—weddings, funerals, picnics, parades, etc.—will begin its concert somewhere near the dormitories on campus. The band will march around the campus for about 30 minutes and then perform in a building on campus. Following the formal performance, the band will march from the building and finish up somewhere else on campus.

Two Amarillo teenagers were arrested early Monday by members of the Amarillo Police Department and charged with possession of a dangerous drug, a major misdemeanor.

The two were arraigned before acting Randall County Judge Elton Cox and bond was set at $500 apiece.

Robert Stephen Ray, 19, of 5504 Alvarado, and Kathleen Marie Rickwartz, 19, of 2804 Magnolia, were arrested by officers at 12:48 a.m. Monday at 3401 S. Bell in Amarillo. They are charged with illegal possession of amphetamines.

Ray was later charged with aggravated assault after an affray involving Randall County Sheriff's Deputy Merle Strickland.

Strickland said he was escorting Ray to a jail cell in the Canyon courthouse during mid-afternoon Monday when the youth struck him in the face.

Ray appeared before Judge Cox again Monday, was arraigned and bond on the assault charge was set at $500.

Ray pleaded not guilty to both the possession and assault charges.

Rodeo Is Success—Mary Ann Sims Is Miss Happy

BY MARY NEAL HENRY

THE LAST FEW months have certainly been a paradox. Everything seems to be standing still and yet moving twice as fast. Things are finally looking as if we are progressing. After using over two hundred pounds of "all purpose mud" (I call it texture), I said that I'd always read about these rich women who take these mud baths to become beautiful and here I'd been covered in it for two weeks and it hadn't helped a bit. This week it's paint. That takes three coats: one on the house, one on me, and one on the floor.

DICK AND JACK Ratjen produced the Stamford Rodeo, the largest in the world, on July 1, 2, 3, and 4th. They've been producing this show for eight years.

Over 10,000 attended on Saturday night. They had 186 calf ropers to rope two calves each, 176 double muggers (2 go's also); 46 Old Time Ropers who were 55 and older and the top ten of those received a second calf, which made 428 calves roped beside all the other events. Dick said they started roping at 8:30 A.M. Sunday and finished at a quarter until five without even stopping for lunch. They also had over a hundred barrel racers.

WE RAN into Dick and Jan in Canyon Saturday at the park. Course we asked about the alligator. Dick says he can't pick him up by the tail anymore. I still want to see him swim.

LLOYD RAHLES and Tom (and Maude and May) advertised Happy Days in Canyon's big parade.

THE HIGH PLAIN'S Children's Home in Amarillo sends out a bulletin which this month listed the donors who donated in honor of Mrs. Vivian Wesley.

Janetta McNeill called and told us that it was listed in a special way.

PAULINE AND WOODROW Wesley attended the rodeo in Amarillo on July 4th and the Pony Express races in Canyon over the weekend.

SATURDAY NIGHT, July 8, Ronnie Fields was installed as Master of the Happy Lodge No. 1008 A.F. and A.M. in Happy's second Open Masonic Installation. Alden Mann served as installing officer and Bill McCarey as installing marshal.

Brother Lawrence Tucker pronounced the invocation. Bill Beavers provided the special music. Other officers installed were senior warden, Frank Tiley, junior warden, Ervin Wilson, treasurer, W.T. Robinson, secretary, Harold Eakes, chaplain; Alden Mann; senior deacon, Larry Burks; junior deacon, Kip Morgan; senior steward, Alti White; junior steward, John Frank Toles, and Tiler, Rayford Shipman. Mary Ann Sims registered guests. Mrs. Mildred Fields and Sandy Railsback served punch and cake from a table adorned with cut work linen cloth and centered with blue flowers. Rhonda Fellers, Barbara and Beverly Dowd and Linda Railsback also helped serve. Ladies and friends of installed officers served refreshments. Several out of town guests also attended.

MARY ANN SIMS was crowned MISS HAPPY Saturday night in the Happy Jaycee-Ette sponsored contest. Marilyn Venhaus was first runner up and Karen Murdock was second runner-up. Kathy Bates crowned Mary Ann and presented her a bouquet of red roses from the Happy Jaycee-Ettes. Lisa Payne and Bonnie Briscoe were also in the top five finalists. The setting of "Beauties and Blossoms" was flowers, a gazebo and a patio complete with picket fence.

MELISSA NULL won Little Miss Happy and was crowned by the retiring Little Miss Teri Patching, who also presented Melissa a bouquet of red roses from the Happy Jaycee-Ettes. Lisa Johnson and Sharla Miller were runners-up in the Little Miss Contest.

BILL LOONEY did an excellent job as master of ceremonies. He told a story about "Who caused the walls of Jericho to fall?" Of course this was a question he asked one day that he was substitute teaching at school and the question went through several channels. And did you know that Bill never did find out who did it?

JUDY SHIPMAN played for the contest and did an excellent job and a quintet from Nazareth provided special music during the judges' decisions. Judges were Mrs. Jack Bradley and Don Young of Tulsa and Dr. Dean Beddow of Amarillo.

IT WAS A good job, co-chairmen, Dottie Foster and Betty Stockett.

GEORGE TIREY, Vice President of Happy Jaycees, announced during the contest on Saturday night, that the Happy Day Celebration plans are well under way for August 17, 18, and 19th with a rodeo and dance on the 18th and 19th. There will be the annual free bar-b-que for old timers on August 19th and the horseshoe pitching contest and beard contest, and some activities for the children in the park. All this after the parade that morning. Y'all come!

RICKY McPherson, Jim Whitlow, Harold Starkey, and Lloyd Venhaus took the Happy Chiefs to Amarillo last weekend to see the Amarillo Giants play Shreveport. Tim Moudy, Doug Sims, Vince Price, Jimmy House, Mark Tackitt, Wade Grubbs, Scott Railsback, Steve Altman, Corin Freeman, Bobby Strohmeyer, Clay Simons, Kirk Altman and Dan E. and Don E. Venhaus got to attend this big outing.

KARLEEN and Lee Moore accompanied several members of the Happy FHA and FFA on a swimming party last week.

NETHA AND Dub McCarley entertained on the Fourth with hamburgers and home-made ice cream in their yard. Enjoying the festivities were Peggy Bell and Doug, Randy, Dennis, Danny and Wade; Ken Henry; Neil, Tanya and Cory McCarley; Johnny, Buck and Becky McCarley; Mike Sims, Freddy Briscoe, and Collette and DeAnn McCarley.

LOUISE, GEORGE and Nancy White, Vickie House, Lean Bell Cabe, and Poe Cabe are gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas fishing and vacationing.

RAINBOW GIRLS will be attending a Joint Meeting in Canyon on Saturday, July 15. Kay Spear, Brenda Parker, Linda and Brenda Railsback will be participating in the meeting.

CHARLOTTE AND Roman Weavers and their Leslie and Romona are visiting in Jefferson City, Missouri, where Roman's brother has been seriously ill.

MARY ANN AND Don Magness and their Donna and Debbie went to Dallas on Saturday morning. They met Donna's roommate and her husband who are now attending North Texas State for supper night, went to Six Flags on Sunday and through the "Apparel Mart" school on Monday. Donna plans to attend this school of fashion, and managing this fall.

CONNIE HAND stayed in Houston to visit an aunt and her family (on Fay's side) and has returned this week.

MICKEY WARLICK, AN evangelist who has visited our church many times, is in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock very seriously ill.

MRS. L. W. Rhoads returned to St. Anthony's Hospital for surgery again on Tuesday morning.

VESPER SIMS IS very seriously ill in Nebbett Hospital. FLOYD SWEARINGEN IS ill in Swisher Memorial Hospital and unable, at this time, to have visitors.

CAMMA LOU TACKITT's father, A. C. Walker of Panhandle, died Saturday night at his home in Panhandle. Our sympathy goes out to Camma Lou and the Tackitt family.

THE MUSTARD SEED, Happy's famous coffee house, is now open for ages 2 through 40, it is open to all ages from two o'clock until four o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. It is open on Friday night until 11:00 and on Saturday night until 11:30. Steve Vernon says they'd be happy to have you sponsor some night.

LANELLE TODD SANG a beautiful special on Sunday morning. The message of it was most appropriate here.

MELVIN HOOTEN, PASTOR of a Baptist Church in Snyder, Okla. was the pulpit guest on Sunday evening.

STEVE VERNON HAS just recently returned from a visit to Houston.

ADREN AND SUSANNE Cunningham and their Billy and Jody have just returned from visiting friends in Dallas and relatives in Florida. They flew on one of those big 747's. And then they dropped in on us for a sur prise visit on Tuesday evening. Come again, soon! And stay longer.

WALKER AND NANCY Parker went to Abilene Saturday to help form a new state chapter of the Texas Commercial Rabbit Raisers Association. Walker is president of this chapter up here and Nancy is secretary. They organized the Big Country Commercial Rabbit Raisers Association at the Jodie and Bobbie Pittman home in Abilene. Nancy drew up their charter so they could be represented at the board of director's meeting in Amarillo next Saturday. And they drove home in severe weather. Posthad over 3/4 inches of rain when they came through there. They didn't get home until almost five A.M.

AARON AND JEANNIE Parker went, too. And on the way, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rook at Plainview; the Jim Joiner Rabbitry at Heckville. Nancy's uncle, Cliff Kellum and his son at Snyder; Elmer Sandashy and Jerry Ertel in Clyde. Elmer and Jerry were weighing rabbits for the co-op truck to pick and take to the Amarillo market. Eventful trip.

JAY WADE JOHNSON was honored with a birthday party and big "family" get-together last week. Mandi Shipman got to spend the night with him.

BARBARA AND KEN Danner and their Noel and Karen and Ernestine and Vilo Danner met the Jerry Don Danners at Lake Brownwood for the holidays. More of that family was also included.

SHERMAN COX HAS been hospitalized with a broken leg and some cracked ribs because a horse fell with him at his home last week. Sherman may be home by the time you read this.

LORAIN (NEWSOME) LACY of Centre, Colo., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Newsome of Wayside, and sister and their families Kirkie and Marily Cope and The Dean Todds.

THE TRI STATE High School Rodeo Club met on Tuesday night. They continued plans for their rodeo which is to be held August 4 and 5 at 8 o'clock each night. T S H S R A Rules will prevail and this is strictly high school students only. Hugh Cooper will produce this show and Henry "Ping" Crawford will be announcing. There is also a 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon performance. Boy's events include bull riding, bareback bronc, tie down roping, ribbon roping, chute dogging, and team roping. Girl's events to be held are goat tying, barrel racing, pole bending, breakaway roping and calf bobbin. Books are open and will close July 28, so be sure and get your entry in. There is no way that I can get you in any later in this Tri-State High School Rodeo. They abide by their association's rules.

Happy Jaycees will sponsor a dance after the Saturday night performance.

THEY ALSO DECIDED to

not have the flea auction. But they are going to have a trail ride, an all day affair. And Tom is "Trail Boss." We laughed, too!

HAPPY JAYCEES REST stop was a success! They were open forty hours and served 73 families from several states, one as far away as Wisconsin. They plan to have another on Labor Day. It was interesting to those who worked.

VINCE PRICE HIT a home run and Jimmy House hit a fly ball even though the Chiefs lost to the Dodgers 9 to 22 on Tuesday night. Coran Freeman played an extremely good game, his coach reported.

HELEN BRYAN IS home and Rowdy Quinn is taking care of her. She is recuperating nicely.

MRS. BRIGGS, THE rodeo club called off their flea auction, but I'll find out about the Happy Day Celebration and let you know.

LINDA AND BOB McDonald and their David and Ronnie, Jettie and Amos Ratjen, Kelly and Terry McDonald are spending this week at Moseman's Lake.

JAY HOARCE MC CARLEY is in Nebbett Hospital this week after an emergency appendectomy.

Thank you for the nice comments.

See Ya!

Belyews Win Yard Award

By CINDY CAPPS

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST wishes to Linda and Scott Holcomb on their marriage of May 27th. After a great honeymoon in Colorado Springs, Linda and Scott are at home at 243 LaFiesta.

THE YARD OF THE Month award for the month of June went to Jim Belyew of 227 LaFiesta. Joanne Scott of 233 LaFiesta was the recipient of the July Yard of the Month award. Both of these yards are lovely as are many more in Siesta Playa. The word from the management is that it is extremely hard to choose only one yard each month because they are all looking great. By the way, did you know that the winner each month gets a free dinner at Sutphen's Bar-B-Q?

SIESTA PLAZA IS most fortunate to have a Vacation Bible School July 10-14 right in our own Recreation Center. Sponsored by Grand Avenue Baptist Church of Amarillo, children four years of age through the sixth grade are encouraged to come from 9:00 a.m. till 11 a.m. Refreshments will be served. There will be swimming in the Siesta Plaza pool from 11:15-1:30 (with parents' permission.)

JUNE WAS A thrilling month for Pat and Tex Reed of 247 LaFiesta. They were visited by all four of their children and four grandchildren all the way from Massachusetts. Pat and Tex were surprised on June 19th with an early arrival of daughter Mrs. Sandra Pellerin and granddaughter Kim, age 2. The Pellerins live in Lynn, Mass. Daughter Mrs. Ruth Murray and granddaughter Michelle, age two also arrived early from Revere, Mass. On June 25th, son Mr. Skip Bowes of Lynn, Mass., and daughter Mrs. Cheryl Repecho with grandchildren Jay, age five, and Kellie, age three, all from Pittsfield, Mass., arrived along with Francis Martini also of Pittsfield, Mass. So as you can see the Reeds really had a house full for three weeks and they loved every minute of it.

SIESTA PLAZA WOULD like to welcome all new comers to the park. Some recent families to move in Siesta Plaza are Mr. and Mrs. Don Friemel, 100 Siesta; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horn and their sons Garland, 16, and Clinton, 15, 145 Siesta; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, 213 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bouyva and their eight month old baby, 221 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ford, 229 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ford and their three year old son, 256 LaFiesta; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bedard and son Donald, 15, 223 Loma Linda; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Robertson and sons, Roger, 8 and Greg, 2, 244 Loma Linda.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cox of 216 LaFiesta on the birth of a baby girl. Congratulations also to Rod Bolmer, 233 Loma Linda, who is getting married soon.

JULY 22 IS Siesta Plaza Appreciation Day. The management is giving the park residents a free dinner at the Recreation Center. If you haven't already signed up in the office for the volleyball Tournament then you need to do so. It ought to be great fun and so we're looking forward to seeing you all there.

DO CALL IF you have some news. My number is 353-2024 and I'd love to hear from you.

Gene Howe Fishing Is Skimpy

BY TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

SOME PEOPLE HAVE better luck at fishing than others. Take the Jimmy Whites for instance. After checking the wind velocity, water temperature, location of the moon, turning around three times and tossing a little salt over their shoulders, Jimmy and Winona took off to Possum Kingdom for some sand bass fishing. Word was out that the sand bass were doing their thing, and the Whites wanted to do their thing, too, which in this case was catch their fair share of this flat fish, which has a flavor rather like crappie. Neither the fish nor the Whites had much luck. Winona caught a total of forty inches of fish and Jimmy is not talking about his catch. It was 113 degrees in the shade; the fish were not running (or eating), the Whites weren't catching (or eating), so they said "uncle" and came home to cooler climes. Better luck next time, folks.

SOME OTHER GENE Howe people, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tension, and children, Terry and Denise, did not have any better luck at fishing, but they did get some to eat though. After visiting friends in Dallas and the Fort Worth area, the Tensions made the rounds at Six Flags over Texas, and then decided to spend a few days at Lake Stanford. Loydell was pleased that the cabin they stayed in did not come furnished with a radio, television or phone; but, as far as the Tensions were concerned, the lake was not furnished with fish, either. They tried and tried, and finally someone with better luck took pity on them and gave them a nice big fish. The Tensions did not know what kind of fish it was and did not care either—simply pleased that they did not have to eat sandwiches for supper again.

THE NON-FISH catchers might ask for a few hints from the children of Bob and Margaret Ingram. While enjoying a stay at Laporte, Colorado, Kelley, Tracy and Roby caught more than their fair share of trout. In fact, they were only discouraged from catching more after mommie and daddy announced that they were tired of cleaning fish, and if the youngsters caught anymore, they (the youngsters) would have to clean their own fish. This particular pastime was rather unappealing, so Kelley, Tracy and Roby devoted more of their time to horseback riding and hiking. Once dispensing with their cleaning chores, Bob and Margaret had more time for reading and relaxing and enjoying the marvelous scenery and weather.

THE MEN IN the Mulherin family claim they caught about 17 "nice" trout while spending the weekend in Red River, New Mexico. We say "claim," because they ate the proof. Marty and his guest, Troy Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Thompson, had just about as much fun in town as they did fishing. Guy and his guest, Wayne Early, took the boys for some very scenic (and probably scary) motorcycle rides on the mountain trails. Wayne's son, David, is visiting from California, and spent his time doing whatever it is teenagers do to amuse themselves in Red River.

PETE AND ADA Solbrig did quite a bit of traveling over the past week. They and Tyra, Shari and Bart took in Six Flags over Texas, and then went visiting. And, when the Solbrig's go visiting, they go visiting in a big way. They made stops in Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Vernon and San Antonio before heading to Fredricksburg for a family reunion. Over fifty people attended the reunion and celebrated in a grand old manner, enjoying dancing, barbecue and conversing to their hearts content.

ARLENE AND F.P. Todd have enjoyed their house full of company. Mr. Todd's sister, Mrs. A. J. Dwyer, and her son, Arthur Dwyer, have been visiting from McLean. His sisters-in-law, Mrs. Bonnie Todd and Mrs. Ruby Nell Todd, have been visiting from Pampa. Not to be outnumbered, Arlene had some of her family here, too. Her uncle and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, from Phoenix, Arizona, joined in. Cindy Todd decided to have some company, too, and Lisa Erwin and Tracy Bufkin rounded out the count. The group took in "TEXAS" at the amphitheater and had a good old-fashioned picnic in Palo Duro Canyon. An awful lot of visiting and eating were indulged in, insuring a good time for all.

MR. AND MRS. Glen Kuntz and children, Kelly, McShell and Teresa, were the recent house

A Personal Word From Oral Roberts About Betty Baxter

The Betty Baxter Story is the greatest story I have ever heard. It is a drama of deliverance in our time ranking with the greatest miracles of the Bible. That a young girl, hopelessly crippled and deformed as the woman Jesus healed in Luke 13:10-13, could have the faith to believe Jesus would heal her, is a challenge to every person who has ever felt the awful power of sickness and disease. Jesus appeared to Betty Baxter, talked with her, laid His nail-scarred hands on her twisted, matted spine and in a moment's time straightened her bent body and made her whole. It is a true story, occurring in Fairmont, Minnesota, in 1941.

Palisades Palaver

Vandals Wreck Property at Tanglewood Club

By VICKI HOOKER

DID ANYONE NOTICE the lovely picture and write-up of Gail Dudley's upcoming marriage in The Canyon Sunday News about two weeks ago? Gail will undoubtedly be a beautiful bride, and we wish her and her fiancé all the happiness in the world. The date of the wedding is set for August 7 in the Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo.

THE LUCKY MAN, according to the article in the paper, is Rodney Lee Elliott of Amarillo. I haven't talked to Gail to find out where they plan to live, etc., but I promise I will, and when I do, you all will be the first to know. Anyway, Gail, we are very happy for you. Best of everything to you!

SPEAKING OF WEDDINGS, I had mentioned in a previous column that Ann Johnson had asked permission to use our Washington Park for hers. But Wanda, her Mother, clued me in on the fact that Ann will be married in Memorial Park on Washington Street in Amarillo! Sorry 'bout that, Ann! Would whoever has asked permission to use the park for a wedding please call me so we can get things straight?

LEO FORREST OVER in Tanglewood was right when he suggested we find a "local" Fire Chief besides our "travelling" Chief, Lum Edwards! He and Lena just returned from another trip! They think since they got that new van they can't stay at home!

WHILE THEY WERE gone this time for 10 days they saw a lot of countryside, but according to Lena, their main objective was to see their five-month-old great grandson, Chad. First stop was Cody, Wyoming, where the Edwards met their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller and their daughter Minnetta and boyfriend Dale. Little Chad's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chad Walter met them there also. Despite the fact that it snowed the entire time they were there, they still got to see Yellowstone National Park and Old Faithful.

FROM THERE THEY travelled to Mr. and Mrs. Walter's home in Grape Falls, Montana, for one of those good old-fashioned family visits; which are usually the highlight of any trip. On their way home they visited Glacier National Park, and enjoyed the scenery in Colorado and New Mexico.

WHILE TRAVELLING, LENA said they only ate out one time, and after cooking all that time in such close quarters, she said she was mighty glad to be home! And we're glad you're back too, Lena!

RAN INTO BEVERLY Norman the other day in the Cloth World. She was getting some burlap to make some more of those dainty little flowers. If you've never seen any of Beverly's creations, you've missed something. She is a very talented lady. For those of you who attended the Home Demonstration Club Meeting at her house when we made sand candles, you'll recall that she had no sidewalks or porches. Well, they finally had them poured so she wouldn't get in the mud while watering her outside plants. Now, however, she says she gets in the mud trying to get to her sidewalk! That's par for ya!

SHE AND TAYLOR just returned from a sight-seeing trip in Colorado. They took a nice and nephew from up north to Durango and Silverton and across the Royal Gorge. Beverly said it got pretty scary while crossing the bridge because they met another camping rig which must have been fairly large. The two campers mirrors were touching in the center of the bridge and their outside mirrors were touching the railing. Whew! But they made it home safely after having a very enjoyable trip. Now they are planning to return to Colorado in August, only this time to rock hunt! And I'm sure that no matter how many they bring back, Beverly will have something very original planned for them!

AS THE PISTOLS fired, three of our young men were off and running last weekend, and all three made the news for their achievements in motorcycling! Congratulations to Joe Moss, Jamie Walker and Randy Carthel for their showings in UMBARGER and at the Speed Bowl.

SUNDAY WAS A busy day for Jamie. Racing first at Greenbelt Lake, he won a trophy for fourth place in 100 moto-cross. Then later that night at the Speed Bowl he won a second place trophy in the 100 scrambles. Also at the Speed Bowl, Joe Moss recovered from a fall to win first in the 125 scrambles.

RANDY TOOK FIRST in the 250 Moto-cross Main event at the Speed Bowl and also at UMBARGER. But evidently he's going to have to really hustle if he's going to keep up with girl friend Mara Campbell, because she also came in first in UMBARGER in the Powder Puff Derby riding a 250 machine!

WE ARE HAPPY to have Liz Timmons back home after her weekend stay in the hospital. She was having some inner ear trouble which was causing dizziness. But she's doing fine now and we hope she continues to do so.

LAKE TENKILLER IN Oklahoma was the site for Mildred Turner's family reunion over the July 4th holiday weekend. Garland and Mildred, along with their daughters and son-in-laws, Judy and Gene Webb and Carolyn and Dan Bailey and their families helped make up the 38-member gathering. According to Judy this was a smaller group than those in the past. Aside from the fact that it rained every day except the last day of the reunion, everyone enjoyed the outing, and they were thankful for cool weather.

THE SUN FINALLY peeked out the last day of the reunion and those who were still there boated and skied. Fishing was good, and the men caught several crappie and bass. All-in-all it was a very enjoyable three-day weekend for the Turner's, Webbs, and Baileys, and we're glad to have them home again.

NEXT WEEK WE'LL try to introduce the Poindexters and the Griffins. The Griffins bought Jack and Irene Parker's house. Also there will be some exciting Board Meeting news! So see ya next week!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO our beloved aunt and neighbor,

Arline Hooker, whose happy?? day will be Saturday, July 15.

Lake Tanglewood News

EACH WEEK NEWS about the Lake Tanglewood Community Church is reported first because most readers consider their place of worship the most important place they go all week. And each week we try to report the progress the Church is making as far as new members and new equipment is concerned.

LAST WEEKEND SOME pervers attempted to halt the progress of the Church by attempting to destroy its physical make-up, but he failed. One cannot destroy the spirituality of a church or of its members simply by tossing a few hymnals in the pool.

MRS. MARY MORRIS came to the clubhouse, last Sunday morning presently being used for Church services, to make Coffee for the fellowship hour. She was shocked to find that all three doors to the clubhouse were open and that chairs, hymnals, artificial flowers and rocks had been dunked in the pool. And most of the light bulbs were shattered all over the floor. She and others got busy and cleaned up the mess in time for services at nine, which were held inside. Special music was provided by the youth choir and all enjoyed it very much.

NO ONE KNOWS who is responsible for that tragedy which took place last Saturday night. But rest assured that whoever it will receive just punishment, even though human error may have allowed this vandal to slip away!

DAN AND JULIA Manning are home from a recent cruise. They rode the Delta Queen up the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers from New Orleans to Cincinnati and said they really had a great time. Julia says that the Delta Queen is the "only overnight passenger paddle-wheeler steamboat" in use today on U.S. Waters. (what a mouthful!) After returning from their Mark Twain type adventure, they entertained a very welcomed guest in their home. She was Mrs. E.J. Maczko, Dan's sister, from San Diego.

FAMILY REUNIONS ARE always such a pleasure to attend. One can always return home assured that he's not getting any older-only the children are. Well, we'll see what B.A. and Texana Wulfman have to say on the subject when they return from her family reunion in Santa Barbara, California, with their two grandchildren, Bo and Melissa.

YOU REMEMBER READ-

ING sometime back that Jack and Alma Anderson's daughter and son-in-law, Judy and Jim Corbin and their three children were going to borrow the Anderson's motor home and take a trip? Well, they have returned after taking a three-week, 3,500-mile tour of the West! The highlight of the trip was Disneyland, enjoyed as much by Judy and Jim as by the children!

WHILE SOME TRAVELLERS stayed home over the 4th and entertained guests, Jerry and Monte Trice entertained daughter and son-in-law Ann and James Bailiff and their son Howard. Laura and Windy Blum, nieces of Irl and Arnette Brown, are visiting from California, and the Marmadukes (Marge and Sam) have company from Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schneider. Hope all of you are enjoying your stay on the lake, and we know that with such lovely hosts and hostesses entertaining you, you are.

SHAMROCK, THE GOOD luck town, has one of its guests this week Debbie Smith, daughter of Gee and Jane Smith. Debbie is visiting her grandmother here. Hope she has a nice boy!

TUNE IN NEXT week for the latest developments of the Precinct 1 Volunteer Fire Department! It's really a good group of fireballs! (Yuk!)

Sherman Acres News

'Neighbors Sightsee and Visit

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

GREETINGS AGAIN FROM the Sherman Acres Area. We are back in our usual place (maybe at a little slower pace) and will try to catch up on the happenings out here. We have missed some of the activities and trips and parties already. If you have been some place or had guests or a party please call me at 352-2951 and we'll surely get it in our neighborhood column.

IN JUNE THE Jack Nance family was in Ada, Oklahoma, visiting with friends and relatives. Nina remained there for a longer visit, then came home by plane bringing a friend with her as a guest in their home.

MR. AND MRS. James Anderson and children vacationed in the Colorado Springs area recently. They report a real good time touring the vicinity and seeing all the famous spots there. All the Anderson children are enrolled in swimming classes at the Amarillo Aquatic Club. Kent and Batina are very happy about being Junior Aquatics. Congratulations to both of you.

MR. AND MRS. James Brashear and children were in Wellington recently to attend the Clement family reunion. Charlene and the girls were back there for the funeral of her aunt.

A VERY HAPPY belated birthday wish to Ross Glenn, Tom Allen, Kristen McDowell, Jim Wilhite, Beverly Allen and Terry Harris. We missed your special day at the right time, but wish you much happiness for the coming year.

MR. AND MRS. Pat Patterson have moved their business, Lubbock Ready Built Homes from Amarillo to the corner of Nena Street and the expressway. They are the developers of Sherman Acres and have been in the house building and moving business for a number of years. The Pattersons live in Amarillo now, but spend much of their time out here.

MISS SAUNDRA DAVIS of Canadian is visiting this week with her cousins, Carla, Lisa, Cynthia and James Brashears.

REBA GRIFFIN HAD as a guest this week Rita Hopkins from Amarillo.

MR. AND MRS. R.A. Starke and children Donna, Clay and Sheila were in the Fort Worth area last week. They did some visiting and toured the Fort Worth Zoo and spent a day at Six Flags. They surely had a cool pleasant week for it.

VISITING IN THE Ellis Hanes home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gibson and children Heath and Heather who are now living in Canyon.

THIS PAST WEEKEND Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Newman and girls Quinell and Lani were in Levelland to attend the Palmer family reunion. They visited with many family members and were especially happy to see JoEll's brother and family from Dallas.

WHILE READING

MARGO'S vacation account in the Sunday News, I couldn't help but chuckle, having recently returned from our family vacation. We went to Dearborn, Michigan where we toured the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, the Dearborn Museum and toured the Rouge assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company. We did a lot of sight seeing and some visiting on the way, stopping at Lake Texoma, Little Rock, St. Louis, Indianapolis and Windsor, Ontario-Canada. Coming back we stopped in Chicago and Milan, Illinois, Des Moines, Newton, Kansas and Oklahoma City. The country and farms are so very pretty but the cities just aren't for us. The dusty driveway in the weedy front yard here at home surely is a welcome sight.

MR. AND MRS. Murray Leith celebrated their wedding anniversary Sunday, July 9. We know it was a very happy occasion and congratulations to you. THANKS FOR THE calls I received this week and do keep calling your news to me. I appreciate it so much, Mary Jo

By SUSAN DOLLE

"WE WERE NEVER their age" was an observation about teenagers made by Monsignor Leroy T. Matthiesen, principal of Alamo Catholic High School in Amarillo at a CCD meeting held last Thursday at St. Mary's in UMBARGER.

FATHER MATTHIESEN told the teachers and parents present that teenagers today have been authentic and genuine and have forced older people away from rote and being tradition-bound. He said teenagers are no different from older people now in rejecting authority.

WORKING WITH TEENAGERS requires patience, sympathy and understanding. The principal also said that in religious teaching there is a definite shift back to information rather than free discussion. He said that in religious formation, there is no kind of education that can beat family teaching.

FATHER MATTHIESEN AIDED the group in choosing material for the coming year for elementary and high school students.

MRS. A.C. Evers received word Monday that her brother John (Bud) Hess had died. He was fifty-four. He resided in Derby, Kan. Attending the funeral held yesterday afternoon was Carolyn Evers and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wieck of UMBARGER.

MR. AND MRS. John Wieck and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ehly are in Victoria this week attending the convention of Catholic Life Insurance Union. As officers, they represent Branch #52 of UMBARGER. Over 250 delegates from the state of Texas are expected, home office for the insurance union is in San Antonio.

MRS. HENRY BRACHT and Mrs. Jack Brandt on a recent trip visited Edward Simons in Burk Burnett, Texas; August, Fred, John and Fronin Simons in Wichita Falls; Laura Berend in the nursing home at Archer City; and Ed Berend in Windthorst. Mrs. Bracht also enjoyed seeing the church on top of the hill in Windthorst.

OTHER SUMMER TRAVELLERS have been the Ron Haschkes and two boys who camped in the mountains near Santa Fe for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer and Rita Meyer who fished at Ute Lake and Clarence Beckman who reported a greater catch than the Meyers.

MONSIGNOR MATTHEW F. Schaffel, pastor of St. Mary's in St. Paul, Minn. this week for the national convention of the deaf. He will return this week-end to prepare for a month-long trip to Canada. Father Jerome Haines will replace Father Schaffel during his absence.

PISTOLS AND PETTICOATS Square Dancing Club will award two tickets to TEXAS as a door prize this Sunday evening when the club holds its regular dance in the parish hall. Herrick Allen will be the caller for the evening.

MEMBERS OF THE Catholic Youth Organization spent an evening at Wonderland park Saturday followed by pizza, cokes and singing at Shakey's on Interstate 40. Sponsors for the event were Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Lindemann.

Joy Williams
To Brownwood

Standout Canyon High School guard Joy Williams will compete Saturday night in the Texas Girl Coaches Association All-Star game in Brownwood.

She will play on the north squad, which will be coached by her high school coach, Bob Snyder.

Thirty-two girls from across the state will be participating in the All-Star game.

Crowley Team
Places 1st

The Crowley Express Team from Burleson, a small community south of Fort Worth, walked off with $900 and a Traveling Saddlebags Trophy Saturday night after taking 11 straight wins to become the world champion pony express race team.

Second place winner with nine wins and two losses was the Durant (Okla.) Relay team, which won a cash prize of $560.

Third place winner was the Johnston County Pony Express of Tishomingo, Okla., which compiled an eight win, three loss record during the two-day, 66-race event. A purse of $340 was awarded to the third place team.

The races, sponsored by the Randall County Sheriff's Posse, are an annual event and are staged during Canyon Days.

New Look Coming in Signs

There's a new look in highway signs and although they are not as revolutionary as the mini-skirt, Texas Highway Department engineers hope they will be as eye-catching.

In many cases, symbols, shapes and colors are substituted for words. The department hopes this will give the message to motorists at a glance and remove language barriers.

Jim Moss, traffic engineer with the department in Amarillo, said Canyon area motorists will probably have plenty of time to get used to the new signs and signals.

He said the new signs will be phased in as existing signs become old or lose their usefulness. In fact, Moss doesn't expect the new signs to be completely phased in until 1977. Pavement markings may not be phased in until 1977.

The new symbol signs and pavement markings adopted by the Texas Highway Commission are from the revised "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" released by the Federal Highway Administration.

The new prohibitive signs are probably the most important, highway department spokesman said. These signs all have a red circle with a slash cutting diagonally through the center which means "DO NOT" or "NO." The symbol inside the circle shows what is prohibited.

The yellow diamond-shaped signs still stand for a warning, but some of the symbols showing hazards are new. In addition, most warning signs continue to have a word message, but the message is located under the sign on a plaque.

For example: The word message "MERGING TRAFFIC," is replaced by a black arrow being joined by a smaller black line. A plaque under the sign will have the word "MERGE." It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to which stream carries the merging traffic.

School signs are shaped like a schoolhouse, containing the silhouettes of two children on a yellow background.

Color is a key in the new system. Red indicates stop or prohibition; green shows movement permitted or gives directional guidance; blue signifies motorist services; yellow indicates general warning; and black on white is used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the Manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings.

The shapes of the new signs are important. Diamond shaped signs signify warning; rectangular signs with longer vertical dimensions provide traffic regulation; rectangular signs with longer horizontal dimensions contain guidance information. An octagon always means stop and an inverted triangle means yield.

In addition to the new signs, there are major adjustments in the use of color lines for pavement markings.

Yellow lines will be the only color used for centerline markings on two-way roads and white will remain on multiple-lane highways—for separating traffic flows in the same direction.

A broken yellow centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is allowed for traffic in that lane. Double solid yellow lines will denote areas where no passing is permitted by traffic traveling in either direction. Similarly, double yellow lines will mark the center line of multilane divided highways.

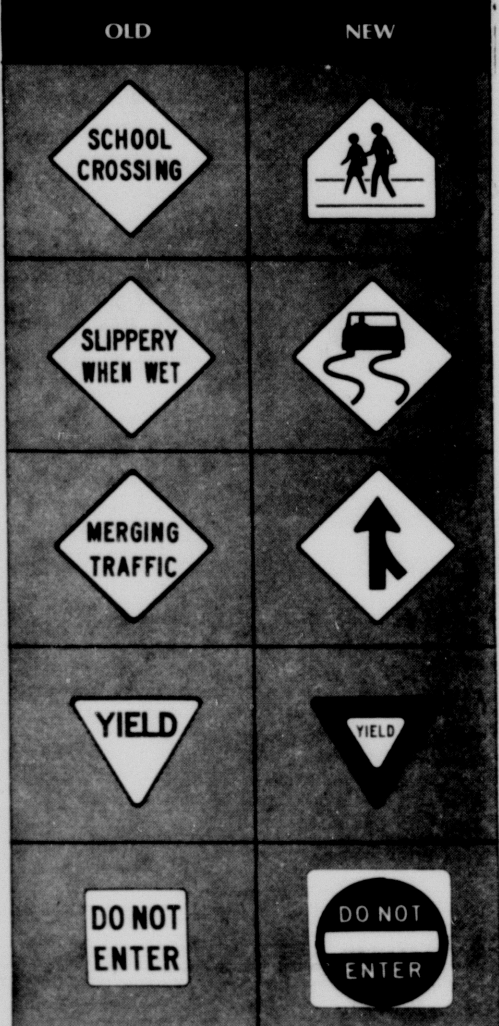

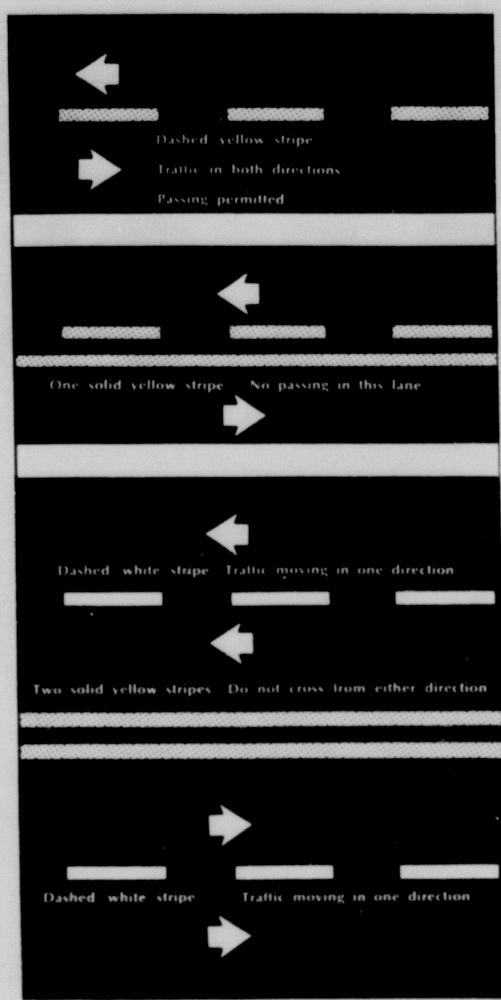

Man Charged
With Bigamy

Bigamy charges were filed last week on a 21-year-old Florida man in Randall County.

Maynard David Selvog of Dundin, Fla., was arraigned Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson who set bond at $1,500. Selvog was arrested by Randall County deputies Saturday.

Randall County Assistant Dist. Atty. Robert McClendon said Selvog is charged with marrying an Amarillo woman on July 1 without having received a divorce for a previous marriage on Feb. 18 in Dallas.

The July marriage took place in Randall County.

Family Enjoys Vacations In Home On Wheels

When the Davis family of seven go camping or visiting, their vacation home goes with them. As a matter of fact, the vacation home is a new self-contained motor home that represents the ultimate in convenience and attractiveness for travelling.

The "pilot" of this home on wheels is Dr. James B. Davis, Jr., head of the accounting department at West Texas University. His "co-pilot" is wife Donna, who looks after the happy brood and also makes use of her master's degree in nursing by teaching part time at Amarillo College. Home port is their comfortable brick home at 1000 4th Ave.

A merry crew it is, and why not? While Jim maneuvers the highways, Donna may slip a casserole into the oven and put Dustin, 2, down for a nap; Terry, 10, LaMoyné, 13, Louise, 14 and Lynne, 16, may take each other on at a game of risk or pitch. No fretting to stop and ease cramped bodies or get soft drinks—it is all there at an arm's reach.

Sound ideal? The Davises think it nearly so. But Donna readily tells you their dream came true because they were willing to forego other luxury items in their budget. "It doesn't save money when travelling—it's just a different way of having fun. It is really the cost of a small home invested in rolling stock," she says.

Camping was one of their favorite family pastimes long before they acquired the motor home. "But we just outgrew our old camper trailer," Mrs. Davis observed. The entire family enjoys the freedom and beauty of natural surroundings.

But they also find the camper ideal for frequent visits to friends and relatives who live at some distance. Since April when they acquired the motor home, they have taken outings to Austin, Tres Ritos and Canton Lake in Oklahoma.

The Davises find their motor home is a conversation piece that often "breaks the ice" and makes it possible to meet other campers at parks and recreation areas. "Campers like to compare experiences," Mrs. Davis commented, "and we have made many pleasant acquaintances in this way."

You might say their sophisticated camper does everything but cook the meals. It measures 8 by 20 feet, sleeps eight people, keeps them cool or warm, has refrigerator, stove with oven, shiny stainless steel sink, and bath facilities with hot and cold water. The stove operates on propane gas, but most of the other conveniences can be operated with both propane gas or electricity, which they use where "plug-in" facilities are available.

Incidentally, their camping vehicle drinks gasoline with voracious appetite. "We look for self-service, low-grade gasoline pumps," says Donna, "and we wipe our own windshields and check oil. However, it is important also not let the tank drop low when one is travelling in sparsely settled areas."

The attractive interior combines walnut-finished panelling with bright orange upholstered seats and cushions for dinette and convertible couches, along with lettuce-green formica tops for tables and counters.

"The one house rule we have is that everyone must pick up his clothing or other articles and put them away," Donna said. Storage space was stretched by putting shelves in a small closet and assigning a shelf with large plastic box to each member of the family. Blankets, towels and such can be neatly stored overhead. The kitchen shelves are adequate for the streamlined cooking they do while on the road.

Most of the time they pull over to a level spot beside the road or wait until they have stopped for the night to prepare meals. The motion of the vehicle tends to make cooking a rather unsteady venture. But once in a while Donna prepares a casserole when their driving day stretches out.

One of their favorites is a seafood casserole, made as follows:

Seafood Casserole
1 can of shrimp
1 can of tuna fish
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 cup chopped celery
1 med. chopped onion
1 c Mayonnaise or salad dressing

Top with buttered crumbs and bake at 350° for 30 min.

Donna keeps the camper pro-

visioned with staples and all housekeeping essentials so they are ready to go on a trip without tiring preparations. She brings a three-day supply of food, including many mixes and instant foods and beverages.

Like most youngsters, the Davis children like hamburgers or hotdogs cooked outdoors best of all. And in camping areas, they keep a campfire going just for the pure pleasure of it.

"The moment we stop, the first thing Dad says is 'hunt for wood,'" volunteered LaMoyné. Another "must" for their campsites is that there must be a fresh stream or lake nearby. Wading and stone-stepping along mountain streams provide added fun, and the boys like to fish as well. They also water ski whenever possible. Hiking, keeping an eye out for some unexpected wild creature, swapping yarns with fellow campers—these are ways they relax.

With a home on wheels, one can always look forward to a "next" trip. For the Davises that will be a three-week jaunt through the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas sometime this summer. And before their oldest daughter is out of high school, they would like to tour the Eastern United States.

Dowlen Re-examines Death Penalty Rule

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen returned from a Houston meeting with attorneys from around the state last week-end with the distinct impression that the death penalty will be retained as punishment in criminal cases.

Dowlen, who was in Houston as a member of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association legislative committee, said after discussion of the recent Supreme Court ruling on the death penalty with his colleagues, he believes the death penalty will stay on the books for use only in a few cases.

Riffling through a copy of the 160-page Supreme Court decision on the matter as he spoke, Dowlen said that of the five justices who voted to turn down the death penalty in cases before the Court only two said the death penalty was cruel and unusual punishment.

"The other three equivocated so much it's really hard to tell what they said," Dowlen said. "The other members of the court said they don't hold the death penalty to be cruel and unusual punishment."

Dowlen said a major objection voiced in the decisions by the justices was on the arbitrary manner in which the death penalty is meted out by juries.

"They said it is arbitrary for one man to get the death penalty for an offense and for another man to get a prison term for the same offense," Dowlen said. Dowlen foresees the death penalty used for only a few crimes, crimes such as the malicious killing of a police officer or for skyjacking.

He said he encountered three schools of thought in Houston on punishment in lieu of the death sentence.

One school says the penalty will be allowed in only a few cases and in those cases it will be a mandatory punishment. The second school says there is a need for a life sentence which has no opportunity for parole both in lieu of the death penalty and even with the penalty.

The third school of thought says a life sentence should be established which includes a mandatory serving time in the penitentiary of 30 calendar years.

Ready For Camping

The Dr. James B. Davis Jr. family of Canyon have found traveling and camping in their new self-propelled camper a new and fun experience. They've taken only a few trips in it so far, but plan a longer trip this summer. The Davis children enjoy the outings, too. The five, Dustin, 2, Terry, 10, LaMoyné, 13, Louise, 14, and Lynne, 16, stand in the doorway of their camper.

Nurse Grant Given WTSU

West Texas State University's nursing program received a Health Education and Welfare grant totalling $37,433 this week in funds for scholarships and student loans, for nursing students the office of Congressman Bob Price announced.

The grant includes $16,978 for loans and $20,455 for scholarships, the congressman's office reported.

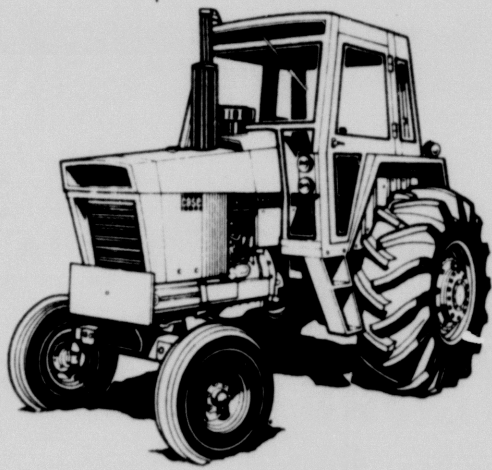

"The funds are especially for nursing funds," Cliff Baker, head of student financial aids at the university, declared.

"One good thing about nursing student loans is that there is a percentage of loan forgiveness for those who graduate and become practicing nurses," Baker went on.

He said eligibility will be determined in much the same way as eligibility for national defense loans in the past.

He also stated that scholarships will be given on the basis of financial need, academic ability and character.
